FLIERS HOP FROM ISLAND

9 COUPLES, RECORD BROKEN, ON 66TH HOUR OF DANCE

THE DANCE IS ENDED!
Harry Stoner, Bucyrus (O.) danced 54 hours and retired in favor of Morpheus today in the national marathon dance. Picture shows Harry in perfect repose.

AFTER 60 HOURS!

ON WITH THE DANCE!
What are 60 hours dancing to Tony Phillips and Teeny Neiman, Amerita Club "best-bets?" Hundreds in Motor Square Garden enjoyed their liveliness.

WILL IT NEVER END?

ASLEEP IN THE DEEP
Sally Bennett shuffled into the fourth day, even though now and then she had to depend on the manly bosom of her colleague, Anthony Burke, a determined dancer.

BUCK UP, BUDDY!

ON THE OTHER HAND!
Leon Brady found inspiration to carry on in his partner, Nell Spade. Note how obligingly Nell lends a helping hand to Leon in his distress!

AFTER 35 HOURS!

ALLEZ-UP!
Hazel Marshall danced for 35 hours—and then, this East End beauty declares, her partner retired. But see how acrobatic Hazel was when the judges said goodby.

Be Kind to New Ideas.
Miss Congo's Insides.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright 1928.)

IT WAS said of one, long dead, "he never feared the face of any man." Floyd Bennett, the American flier who died yesterday, never feared the face of death. He died in a noble effort to help others. The respect and admiration of all his countrymen are his. Life could have given him no more had he lived 100 years.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

ABOVE New York yesterday, in a tri-motor Fokker airplane, flew George Young, publisher of the Los Angeles Examiner, and other good Californians. Maj. Mosley, of Los Angeles, was pilot. The Western Air Express, owning the machine, will start carrying passengers from ocean to ocean.

MR. YOUNG found the Atlantic Ocean small, was sorry to see that New York lacks Los Angeles' possibilities of expansion, but was otherwise well pleased with Los Angeles' Eastern rival.

CHARLES M. SCHWAB sails for England to receive the Bessemer Medal as outstanding figure in the world's iron industry.

On the same ship, Berengaria, sailed William Randolph Hearst, Jr., on his honeymoon. William Randolph, Jr., will go to work on the New York American. He and the older Schwab, talking of "Bessemer," might meditate on the importance of taking new ideas kindly.

AT A convention of British steel makers a man once read a paper on a new way of making steel. The convention voted to strike his remarks from the record to save their meeting from ridicule. The man's name was Bessemer, and he revolutionized the steel business.

Treat the new idea kindly, it may work.

DR. GREEN, in Jacksonville, dissecting the remains of "Miss Congo," female gorilla, said "her inner organs could not be distinguished from those of a 12- or 14-year-old girl."

Colitis, common among humans, killed "Miss Congo" and cost John Ringling $150,000, the gorilla's value.

"Miss Congo's" brain was "equal to that of a child 6 or 7 years old." Johns Hopkins scientists will examine the gorilla lady and tell more about her.

Fundamentalists should not let her resemblance to a human female disturb their faith. A piece of glass looks like a diamond, but isn't one. "Miss Congo" has no soul. At least that's the white man's theory.

ALBERT LOEWENSTEIN, Belgian banker, in America to do a little business, brings a few counts and countesses with him, also four secretaries, two stenographers, chauffeur, private detective, airplane pilot, masseur, and about 20 maids and valets.

LOEWENSTEIN, said to be "the third richest man in the world," has more maids and valets than John D. Rockefeller, George F. Baker, Secretary Mellon, Henry Ford and some other Americans, all put together, but he probably hasn't as many dollars as they have.

SECRETARY HOOVER and Gov. Smith are "cleaning up" the political field. Ohio is for Smith and Hoover. Massachusetts is for Smith and Hoover.

New York is 100 per cent sure for Smith, and Hoover will have New York, although some big Wall Streeters do not want him.

Perhaps they fear he would spend too much on public improvements, canals, roads, etc.

IN OHIO 24,000 men and women took the trouble to write Gov. Smith's name on the ballot, indicating he has a big personal following far from his own state.

RACING on the sand of Daytona Beach, in his Black Hawk special speed car, going more than 200 miles an hour, Frank Lockhart blew out a rear tire. His car bounced 300 feet, "turned several somersaults" and landed upside down. Lockhart was killed.

This unfortunate death of a daring automobile racer is a warning to those who indulge in excessive speed. The air, not the ground, is the place for speeding.

FLIERS OFF IN FORD PLANE

LAKE STE. AGNES, Que., April 26.—(By the Canadian Press.)—The three aviators who were first to make the westward crossing of the Atlantic by plane today at last were free of their isolation on Greenley Island and headed toward the acclaim which the world has waited to give them. They were expected to arrive here about 4 p. m.

After almost a fortnight of uncertainties, they took off this morning in the Ford relief plane from the little island which had been their refuge and which became their prison. Their history-making plane, the Bremen, was left behind, unable to take to the air from lack of skiis.

The start of the relief plane, piloted by Bernt Balchen, was made at 7:45 a. m. Exactly an hour later it was sighted over Harrington, and at 11 a. m. it was reported sighted over Natashquan, 235 miles west of Greenley Island and the eastern terminus of the winter airmail.

To guard against disaster in a landing on the lake ice here, a plan arranged by Maj. James Fitzmaurice before he returned to the island will be carried out. The Ford plane will circle the lake until observers have determined and signaled whether the ice is still strong enough to bear the heavy plane. If it is not, the Ford will keep on to Quebec, about 80 miles away.

Miss Herta Junkers, who has been handling the relief plans, said that skiis had not been sent to the Bremen because it had been planned to fly the trans-Atlantic craft direct to New York, where a landing with them would have been impossible.

What Does Dancer Think About?

TIME—5 VERY A. M. THURSDAY.

Place—Motor Square Garden.

EVENT—NATIONAL DANCE MARATHON.

Characters—Miss Cora Deane, of Homestead, partner of Albert Bonach, world's champion marathon dancer, and Sun-Telegraph reporter.

(This interview took place as Miss Deane was dancing, the reporter following her about the floor, but not dancing—no indeed:)

Q.—HOW ARE YOU?

A.—O. K. I've only had one rubdown since this thing started Monday. I know I'm stepping, but it's not much harder than selling ribbon over a counter.

Q.—WHAT'S THIS TALK ABOUT YOU LOSING YOUR JOB?

A.—Sure I lost it. I was working in a store and the boss told me I needn't come back if I went into the marathon. So I went into the marathon.

Q.—WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO WHEN THE MARATHON IS OVER?

A.—That's a foolish question! Al and I are going to win. We'll go on the stage. Why should I sell ribbon eight hours a day when I can make five times as much dancing an hour a day?

Q—WHAT IF YOU LOSE?

A—That's another foolish question. Al and I can't lose. We'll dance until Christmas if

HILL MOUNTS SLAB AGAINST REDS

The Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Reds, in high spirits after a pair of stirring triumphs yesterday, will renew 1928 hostilities at Forbes Field this afternoon in the first of a four-game series.

The Pittsburgh management has decided to move the starting time up a half hour, temporarily, at least, and the games today, tomorrow and on Saturday will begin at 3 o'clock instead of at 3:30 as has been the custom.

The fans will be asked to vote at the game today and again tomorrow on their starting time preference, and the results of the two days of balloting will be added to those of last Friday. No voting will be done on Saturday.

Manager Bush of the Buccos expects to use Carmen Hill on the mound against the Reds today, while the Rinelanders will probably counter with Adolf Luque.

MARATHON SURVIVORS TOTTER ON

With the local marathon dance record shattered, nine couples wearily plod along at Motor Square Garden today. At 11:06 a. m. the Bonach-Jacques time mark, 61 hours 54 minutes, established last February, was passed and no new champion had been crowned.

At 2:11 p. m. the dancers started in on their sixty-sixth hour of continuous effort which exceeded the old mark by three hours.

News of the creation of another record, spread rapidly and early in the afternoon the attendance shot up, dance fans anticipating that the grind would become killing and force out many of the remaining contestants. But the nine pairs shuffled along.

Those nine couples were the only survivors from the field of 49 mated pairs that entered the festivities at 9 p. m. Monday.

The third night that ended with dawn today was long and arduous a night that found six fagged couples groping to beds and sleep.

The nine couples that were still interested financially in the $1,000 prize at breakfast time were:

Albert Bonach and Cora Dean, Edward J. Leonard and Marianne Jacques, Tony Phillips and Teeny Neiman, Leon Brady and Nell Spade, John and (sister) Stella Capello, Tony Burke and Sally Bennett, Michael Tanskie and Carolyn Colbert, James Wallace and Lois Henry and George Rihn and Vera Humbertson.

The six couples that faded with the morning dew and their records were:

Tony Coda and Dolores Stoller, 58

Scouts to Display Merit at Exposition

Demonstrating their practical knowledge, courtesy and recreational work, more than 4,500 Boy Scouts of Allegheny county will open their first exposition tonight in Duquesne Gardens. Co-operating with Uncle Sam and scores of firms and individuals in Pittsburgh, the scouts will provide 76 shows for the price of one admission. The exposition will continue until Saturday night.

With their own broadcasting station, daily newspaper, weaving factory, model farm, draughting room, weather bureau and first aid station, the Boy Scouts are prepared to show their friends the variety of their work and are bound to interest the greatest number of people.

In a great pool built in the Garden will be an up-to-date life saving station. Equipment valued at $25,000 is used in the exhibition.

Visitors at the Gardens tonight will find every one of the 4,500 boys busy on his own task. The Scouts have been busy for months in preparation for the show and the exhibition will demonstrate their varied accomplishments. The Boy Scout broadcasters have reached Denver, Col.; the daily newspaper they are printing will circulate all over the world; they will show what they know about farming and at stated times will milk the cows, operate the cream separator and do other farm chores, and with these tasks and other jobs requiring equal skill the Boy Scouts will exemplify the

SERUM HOP DECLARED NEEDLESS

MONTREAL, April 26.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Severe criticism of the flight to carry serum from New York to Quebec for the treatment of Floyd Bennett has been made by Premier L. A. Taschereau, of Quebec and Provincial Secretary Athanase David, but Mr. David made plain that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's part in the flight was entirely admirable.

In an address last night the Premier asserted that the flight was entirely unnecessary, as there was plenty of serum in Canada. Mr. David, expanding on this statement, expressed the belief that the flight was a vulgar and spectacular publicity stunt in which unnamed persons had made use of Col. Lindbergh, himself entirely innocent of wrong doing, to further their selfish aims.

ADMIRES LINDBERGH

"As for Col. Lindbergh," said the Provincial Secretary, "I have the utmost respect and admiration for him. He reflects the bravery of youth. I am his very great admirer. But why this bluff? And especially this bluff perpetrated by the use of an American, a world figure?

"I wish to make it clear that I am not anti-American, but I cannot stomach this way of taking profit of a tragic situation under the mask of charity. Here we have everything that is necessary and we do not need them to come from the United States to bring us serum. We can get along with-

we have to. We'll keep moving until next Leap Year if it's necessary.

Q—WELL, HAVEN'T YOU FELT ANY PAIN SINCE YOU STARTED?

A—Sure. Every now and then my ankles tell me I've been double-timing but it doesn't mean a thing. We're here to win that $1,000 Milt Crandall is giving away.

Q—HOW IS BONACH STANDING UP?

CORA DEAN

A—You should ask that. Didn't he win the first Marathon? He's as fresh right now as a new dime, aren't you, Al?

Q—WHAT DO YOU TALK ABOUT WHILE YOU'RE DANCING?

A—We don't talk much. Al is a fine dancer. Once in a while he says, 'Everything O. K.?' And I say 'Sure.' We both know there's nothing to it but us.

Q—DO THE CROWDS BOTHER YOU?

ALBERT BONACH

A—We don't pay any attention to the crowds. When they clap for us we smile at 'em but we don't waste any strength in foolish fox-trots just to please the crowd.

Q—HAVEN'T YOU FELT LIKE QUITTING AT LEAST ONCE?

A—Man, you sure can ask foolish questions! Didn't we come here to dance—and win that prize?

Q—WHEN DO YOU THINK THIS WILL END?

A—I don't care. I know it'll end when Al and I are the last ones standing, won't it, Al?

Q—WHAT DO YOU THINK OF BONACH, OUTSIDE OF DANCING?

A—Say, will you quit asking that kind of questions in front of Al?

ARMSTRONG, KLINE ROW OVER VOTE

SCHOOLEY CALLED CHEATER IN TILT

Politicians today studied the vote cast in the Eighth, Twelfth and Sixteenth Wards in the national delegate contest which produced a near encounter between County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong and Mayor Charles H. Kline, and in which the name of Roy D. Schooley, county tax board member, was used.

An oral battle between the present mayor and former mayor occurred after returns had been scrutinized at Republican headquarters, Hotel Henry, early yesterday morning.

Kline complained that the Sixteenth Ward, Armstrong's home, hadn't given the customary honorary majority to the city's chief executive, and Armstrong countered that Kline did not deserve it. He cited the Eighth and Twelfth wards, where Kline outstripped his running mate, George H. Flinn. In the Eighth Ward Kine ran almost two to one ahead of Flinn and the Twelfth Ward ratio was not much different.

After shouting "cheater," Armstrong declared Schooley had been responsible for the knifing of Flinn in the East End district. Schooley is the leader in the Eighth Ward. Armstrong threatened to take Schooley off the county payroll to give Kline an opportunity "to put him on the city payroll."

Principals declined to discuss the matter today.

MAY'S PARTY ARRIVES IN PARIS

SESSION IN MINES -:- Ministers See Actual Strike Misery -:- BARRACKS VISITORS

AGHAST AT MISERY

SEE MISERY

Stark misery reared before ministers during a trip into the coal districts. The Rev. N. Vander Pyl, Oberlin, O., is pointing out a feature to the Rev. Dr. Hubert C. Herring, chairman, and Prof. E. Colston Warne, University of Pittsburgh, pilot of the trip.

AT HORNING

The ministers groped their way through the muck to visit union and nonunion families at Castle Shannon, Curry, Broughton and Mollenauer. The group shown above is leaving the bunkhouse at Horning mine, Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation.

TALK WITH STRIKERS

After visiting union barracks at Broughton and talking with the strikers and their families, the ministers went to the Broughton public school, target for bullets in recent outbreaks from the nonunion camp across the hill. The seminar is in session at Smithfield Street M. E. Church.

INSTIGATE CHAPEL

Miss Winifred Chappel, Methodist Federation for Social Service, and the Rev. Dr. Hubert C. Herring, Department of Social Relations, Congregational Educational Society, instigated the Coal Seminar.

63 GUESTS OF MAY'S REACH PARIS

PARIS, April 26.—(AP.)—Sixty-three friends and kinsfolk of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. May of Pittsburgh arrived in Paris last night with plenty of Mr. May's money in their pockets and nothing at all to worry about.

They are guests of the Mays on the big free conducted tour, arranged by their hosts in honor of their silver wedding anniversary, April 27, and landed at Cherbourg yesterday morning from the Aquitania. From Cherbourg they took the boat train to Paris under the sponsorship of a representative of Mr. May, who insisted on paying everything and said his instructions were not to let the guests be out as much as "one red cent."

The party was met at the railroad station in Paris by a squadron of interpreters and specially hired porters who rushed them to the Grand Hotel, where Mr. May and his wife, who are making the completion of 25 years of married life the occasion of their celebration, were awaiting them.

Half the hotel staff seemed assigned specially to take care of the party and they have been given one whole floor on which to make merry. One room on this floor is a sort of meeting place where programs for the stay in Paris are posted and where more of Mr. May's money is available for those who spent all originally sent them at New York.

The Americans seem to be enjoying themselves immensely. As for the French—well, they are startled.

"Mon Dieu," said one Frenchman, who witnessed the party's arrival, "we must be back in the spacious days of kings. Louis XIV in all his spendings never put on a party like this."

courtesy and loyalty which distinguish all their undertakings.

There is no commercial element in the show. Business firms co-operating with the show are acting as sponsors for various booths and exhibits, but there has been no exploitation and the entire exposition has been built on its merits and the lofty purposes of the organization. On Saturday afternoon the exposition will be open for school children, when a special matinee rate along with a street car pass will be provided for all the pupils in all the schools of the county.

LACK OF FUNDS MAY CLOSE MINE KITCHENS

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., April 26.—Unless additional donations are received immediately, Ohio National Guard mine relief stations in Eastern Ohio coal fields will be abandoned May 12, Ddjt. Gen. Frank Henderson announced last night. The Ohio guard head said that with present funds, he will be unable to maintain the 20 relief kitchens until that date. Col. Don L. Harter is in charge of the relief camps.

hours, 30 minutes; Stanley Solick and Babe Miller, 57 hours; Harry Stoner and Dorothy Jordan, 45 hours; Fred Martino and Marie Farnan, 52 hours, 42 minutes; James V. Pedrow and Margaret Betz, 48½ hours; Edward J. McGovern and Sue Bodner, 47 hours.

Any attitude of light-heartedness that the marathon owned was lost in the grimness that beset the various candidates as the Thursday grind was begun. The dancers were beginning to realize that they were booked for more than "the next dance." Half-hearted smiles gave way to stern countenances.

WHAT'S HER NAME?

Yet there was something to earn a smile or a chuckle. The blonde and comely Hazel Marshall, of Marchand street, let it be known that she had won a 10-to-1 bet from her father, who had dared to say that she couldn't dance 25 consecutive hours. She shuffled for 35 hours.

And Andrew Krostk, of Homestead, surprised all those present by making no secret of the fact that, after two days of more or less dancing he did not know the name of the fair maiden who had been his partner.

"And," Hazel explained, "it was my partner that passed out after all. He said he was sick. I'd have dragged him around for a while but he left me on a second's notice."

Hundreds—yea, thousands—trooped into the home of auto shows and fist-fighting during Thursday's early hours and if they were puzzled by the letters P. S. C. on the gaudy sweater of Eddie Leonard, partner of Marianna Jacques, Eddie, a son of the Strip, soon satisfied the doubting Thomases. The initials, he proudly explained, stood for Plasterers Social Club.

MILT HAS CHILL

Milton D. (Dance) Crandall was alternately sad and happy as the night wore on. The promoter of the bunion derby announced that some 400 unscrupulous persons had gained entrance on faked tickets and that, to meet the situation, he had posted 12, 24 or 36 detectives at the very portals of Motor Square Garden, all subsequent offenders to be dealt with harshly. Mr. Crandall's disappointment was assuaged as he gazed upon the hundreds who had entered legitimately.

HOLD VOTE BOARD

Another election board was indicted yesterday by the grand jury. The indictment, the same as returned in all election cases, was brought against the members of the Twenty-second District of the Eighth Ward. The members of this board are H. W. Samuels, judge; John J. Foley and W. P. Conley, inspectors and Joseph L. Berringer and Robert H. McKeown, clerks.

The indictment contains five counts, conspiracy to make a false count, and false return; wilfully performing duties as election officers so as to defeat the objects of the election laws; negligently performing duties as election officers and willful fraud by primary officers. Attorney A. M. Imbrie of the Bar Association committee characterized the case as "one of the worst of last September's primary.

SPY HUSBAND NAMES ACTOR

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—(AP.)—Parties in the home of Kenneth Harlan, film actor, were described as "night revelries" by Arthur Preston Henry, wealthy, retired manufacturer from Detroit, who testified here yesterday in the second day of his suit for divorce against his young wife, Mrs. Gertrude Virginia Henry.

Henry admitted he had spied through the windows of Harlan's house from the windows of the house next door which he had rented for the purpose of watching his wife, following his discovery that she had been in Harlan's company on a moonlight steamer ride to Santa Catalina Island.

out American doctors, be they the most accomplished specialists of that great country.

"The serum, why they did not even try it. It was not the right kind. We pass for a country of snows. That is bad enough without calling us a land of ignorants. We have scientists; we have serums. True, we have not all the laboratories needed; but if we could have that I hope we would be safeguarded from such a piece of stupidity as an airplane being flown from New York up here with a serum that we already possess in more than sufficient quantity.

"I must bitterly reprove those who have gone so far as to send a great hero like Col. Lindbergh on such a futile mission to let him risk his life on a vulgar, if spectacular, publicity stunt."

ROCKEFELLER'S PROPOSAL

NEW YORK, April 26.—(AP.)—The first thought of offering aid to Floyd Bennett from the Rockefeller Institute, it was learned today, originated in the mind of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who was deeply moved by the plight of the famous aviator.

He telephoned Dr. Simon Flexner, of the Institute, and asked if there wasn't something that could be done. Dr. Flexner then telephoned to Dr. A. L. Barach, New York specialist in Quebec treating Bennett.

"Well," Dr. Barach was reported to have replied, "you might send me some fresh serum No. 1 and No. 2. I probably could get it here, but I'd like to have it on hand in case we find it the proper treatment."

On the basis of this conversation between the doctors it was decided at once to send serum to Dr. Barach and at this point the plan to secure Col. Lindbergh's services was evolved.

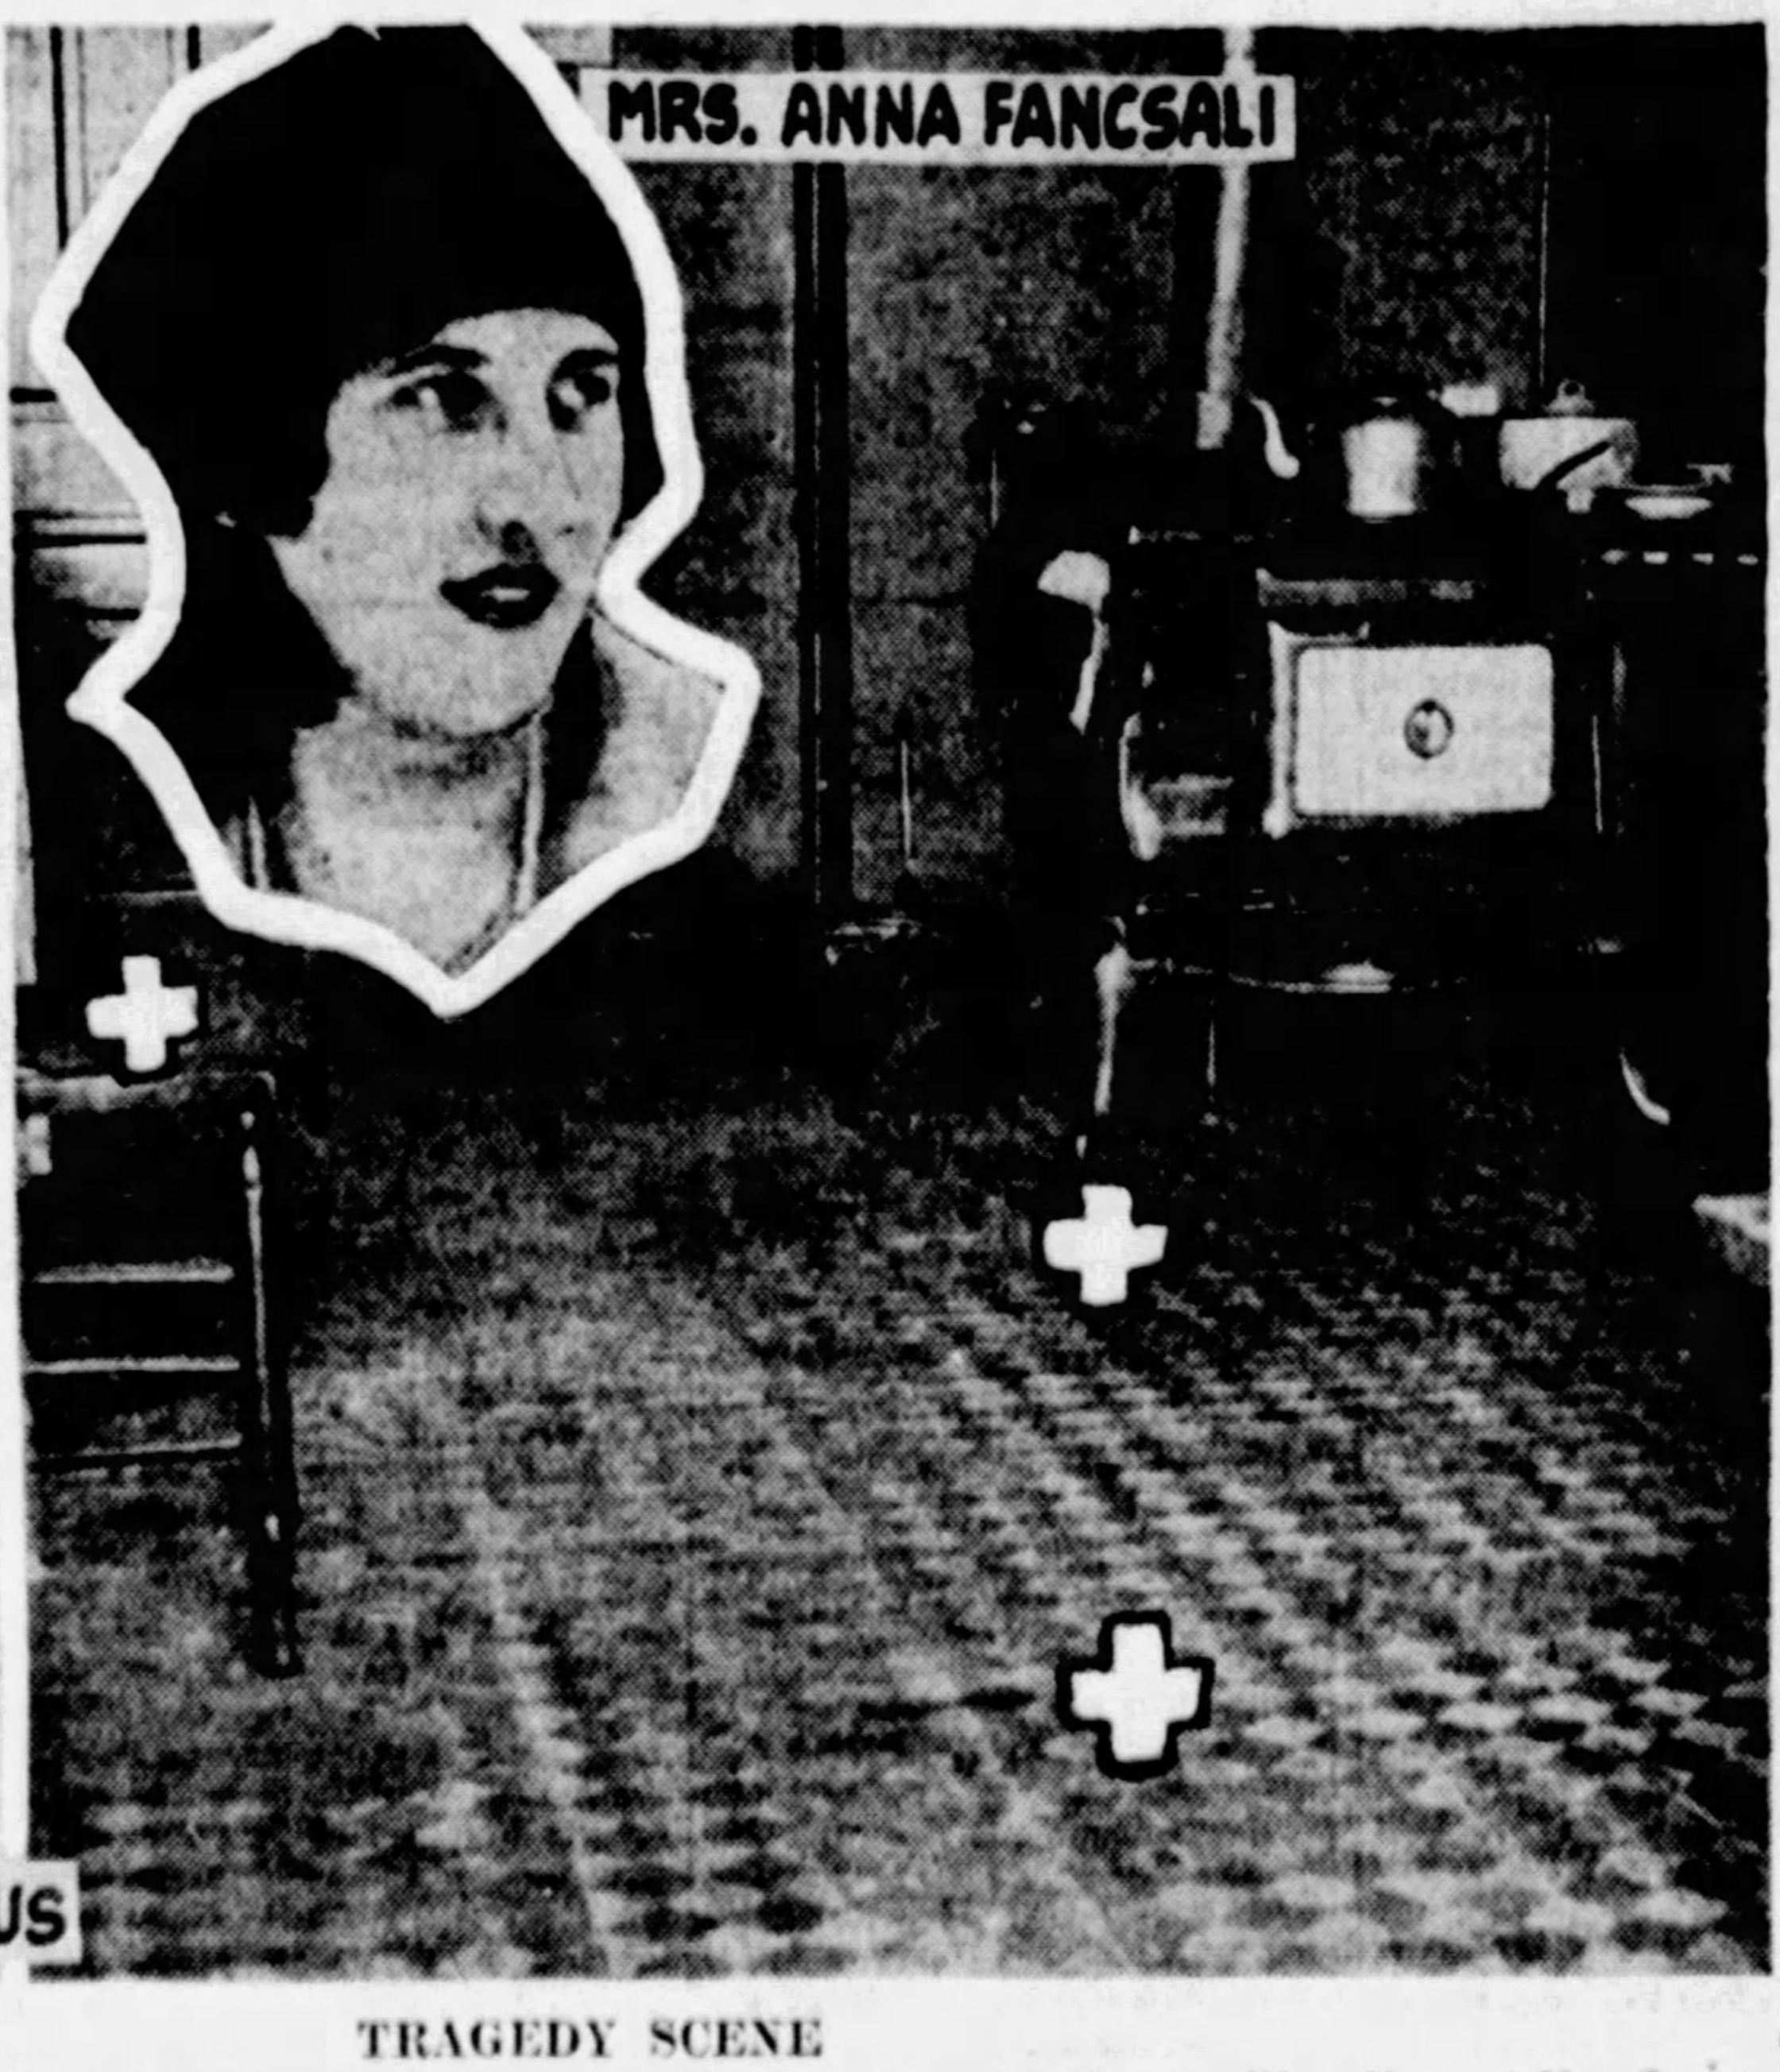
MRS. ANNA LACUS



TRAGEDY SCENE

Three are dead as a result of a family quarrel in the home of Andrew Lacus, Donoda, where Lacus, his wife, Mrs. Anna Lacus, and his daughter, Mrs. Anna Fanscali, were shot down in the kitchen by Mrs. Fancsali's estranged husband, who also ended his own life. Mr. and Mrs. Lacus died in a hospital and the daughter's condition is serious. Positions of the victims as the shooting occurred is indicated above.

JOHN FANCSALI

HUSBAND HERE

John Fancsali was found in the yard of the home of his father-in-law, Andrew Lacus, where he is alleged to have fired a shot into his own body after shooting his wife and her parents. Above is indicated where he fell in a heap on the narrow cement walk.

Mother of 7 Feared Suicide

"I'm going to end it all," said Mrs. Clara Hamilton, 42, mother of seven, to her daughter Esther, 17, last night, as she left her home, 2812 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, according to a report of the woman's husband, William, to the Missing Persons Bureau today.

Esther followed her mother for half a mile along the street car tracks leading to East McKeesport, begging her parent to return home. The mother, silent, kept on, the daughter returning home.

Mrs. Hamilton's children range in age from 4 to 21 years. There had been discord in the family, the Missing Persons Bureau was informed. The missing woman was described as weighing 100 pounds, dark brown hair and eyes, wearing a black coat trimmed with brown fur. Members of her family fear she has ended her life.

WILL ROGERS.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Speaking of a banquet here last night at the opening of a beautiful 17-story building built by the butter and egg men, it's a monument to the American people who can't tell a good egg from a bad one. It's a tribute to what a rooster and a churn can do. You can buy eggs on this market the same as you can buy General Motors stock. So get you some eggs and hold 'em. Somebody will eat 'em no matter how old they are, and if you can't pay your cold storage bill, hard boil 'em and sell 'em for picnics.

Yours a cacklin,

GOV. GETS STRIKE DATA

HARRISBURG, April 26.—Problems of the bituminous strike of Western Pennsylvania occupied virtually the entire attention of Gov. Fisher's cabinet at its meeting today.

Reports presented by various department heads indicate the administration believes the situation is becoming somewhat more serious and that additional steps must be taken to safeguard the public in the region.

Strike conditions "have changed notably" in the last few weeks, Maj. Linn G. Adams, superintendent of state police, reported. The Communistic element has become more active, paraders have been more bothersome to authorities trying to maintain order, he said. The "Save-the-Union" committee, he intimated, has added to the increasing feeling of unrest.

In efforts to relieve conditions of families where the miners have been on strike 13 months, the Department of Labor and Industry is trying to find jobs for the striking miners, Secretary Waters reported. The employment service has been directed to turn over to union leaders lists of employes wanted in western counties to allow them to find men to fill the places. This farm labor.

PRODUCING PLAY

MISS ELLEN MICHIE

Miss Ellen Michie, Bedford (Ind.), graduate of National Park Seminary and a senior in the drama school, Carnegie Institute of Technology, is one of the producers of "Wedding Bells," by Salisbury Field, Campus Week play to be given by students of the drama department at the Gayety Theater, May 3, 4 and 5, with a matinee Saturday. The play is produced under the direction of Chester M. Wallace.

G. O. P. AIDS BRYAN TO VICTORY

Miles Bryan, McKees Rocks, organization candidate for delegate to the Republican National convention in the Thirty-sixth District, has defeated William S. Haddock, burgess of Dormont, campaigning on a Hoover platform.

A late compilation of returns from all but six of the 316 districts comprising the Thirty-sixth Congressional district gave Byran a lead of 604. The vote was Bryan 13,887; Haddock 13,283.

James S. Crawford, Bryan's running mate, took an early lead and his election never was in doubt. With Bryan's victory assured, the organization's slate to send an uninstructed delegation to the Kansas City convention was complete.

Smith Streamer Flies Despite W.C.T.U.

PORTLAND Ore., April 26.—(AP.)—A banner stretched across a downtown street here with the words "Al for All—All for Al" will continue to flap in the breeze, the City Council has ruled, in denying a request from the Women's Christian Temperance Union for its removal.

The W. C. T. U. made its request because it regards Gov. Alfred E. Smith, whose presidential candidacy the banner advertises, as a "wet."

The Portland City Council is Republican.

A FUNNY SHORT STORY

IT COST $7,000

Irvin S. Cobb, who is a pretty good writer, has just paid $7,000 for a ride someone else took in his nice, shiny automobile. Cobb's car piled up with a taxicab carrying Lena Donallo (left) and Margaret Dressler, fashion creators. They don't like to be hit while they're in taxicabs. So they sued the cabby and Irvin for 35 grand. The court awarded $7,000.

UNCLE SAM HURRIES HIS TRIP

This customs clearance form has been issued to Baron von Huenefeld, whose name has been in the papers once before this week. The form enables the baron and his crew on the Junkers plane Bremen to fly right into the United States from Greenley Island without meeting the red tape at customs offices. It isn't possible—is it?—that you fail to identify the baron as the commander of the Ireland to Greenley Island flight? Lack of an airplane admittance form forced customs men to issue this automobile form.

MAN WAYLAID ON BRIDGE

Confronted by eight Negroes on the South Twenty-second street bridge near the Second avenue steps last night, Joseph Mac of 126 Catskill street, Brentwood, was thrown to the sidewalk and robbed of $24. The thugs fled in Second avenue at the approach of a pedestrian.

SEWICKLEY FIREMEN CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Members of the Cochran Hose Company, Sewickley, last night celebrated the fifty-second anniversary of the organization of their company by staging their annual benefit show in the Sewickley Theater. Eight of the charter members were present at the benefit. S. Y. McFarland, present fire chief, was in charge of the affair.

WOMAN LOSES $354 IN FRAUD

Accepting a pocketbook from three Negroes, one a woman, and giving her own purse in return last night, Hazel Jeffries, Negro woman of 2411 Center avenue, was swindled out of $354. The purse she received contained paper she discovered after her acquaintances had departed. Police of the Center Avenue station were notified.

TWO MISSIONARIES SHOT

RUSH WARSHIPS TO AMERICANS' AID IN CHINA

International News Service.

PEKIN, April 26—Two Methodist missionaries have been shot by Chinese troops at Yengchowfu, according to an unconfirmed report received here today.

L. C. Osborn, of the Nazarin mission at Chaocheng, was captured by Nationalists and carried into Chihli province.

Yengchowfu, where the missionaries were reported shot, is 15 miles from Tsinning, where Dr. Walter F. Seymour, superintendent of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions Hospital, was shot through the heart by a Chinese soldier on April 17.

Several United States warships have arrived in northern Chinese waters. American men-of-war are anchored off Tsingtao, where American refugees from the war zone in the Shantung peninsula are concentrated.

United States consular officials reported to the United States legation that the Shantung fighting between Northern and Nationalist troops have marooned American missionaries at the following points: Two at Ichowfu; five at Tenghsien; three at Tsinning; one at Yengchowfu, and 15 at Taianfu.

TASTE and FLAVOR Tell the Story!
DONAHOE'S "93 SCORE" Butter

New! Better Than Ever!

DONAHOE'S "93 Score" Butter is always of uniform high quality, because it is made every day from absolutely pure, fresh whole milk, separated in sanitary creameries.

Ordinary creamery butter is made from cream separated by farmers and dairymen themselves, often in a makeshift manner. Sometimes this cream is kept on the farm for a week, until the cream can is filled, before it is shipped to the creamery. Naturally butter made from a mixture of fresh and old cream, cannot be of the same high quality as butter churned daily from fresh cream.

DONAHOE'S "93 Score" Butter is fresh churned daily—it is better than ever—positively the BEST Butter in Pittsburgh!

CRIPPLE CLINICS ASSIST 14,000 CHILDREN

More than 14,000 crippled and disabled children have been treated in clinics of the Pennsylvania State Society for Crippled Children, in a four-year period, statistics compiled by the association revealed yesterday. This humanitarian work has been made possible through contributing memberships.

The society yesterday opened a drive, the opening day of "Crippled Children Week," to obtain additional funds to carry on this work throughout the state. Membership checks are to be mailed to Ritchie Lawrie, secretary, Harrisburg. All departmental welfare agencies of the state and welfare organizations in cities and boroughs are co-operating in the fund campaign.

Jacob S. Engel, president, Wilkes-Barre, summaries work in Pennsylvania as follows: Nineteen counties providing excellent facilities; 29 fair, 17 conduct clinics without follow-up work; 11 have made no survey.

Mr. Engel pays tribute to service clubs, civic associations, Red Cross and other welfare units, particularly the Shrine.

CARTOONIST INSURES HANDS FOR $100,000

CHICAGO, April 26.—The latest development here in personal insurance is the underwriting of professions to provide lump sum payments for accidents to hand, foot or eyes.

"Billy DeBeck, creator of Barney Google for the Hearst newspapers, recently insured his hands for $100,000 with a Chicago company so the Billy Goat candidate for President will have the aid of DeBeck's comic "strip" throughout the campaign.

DeBeck's policy is so written he would receive $75,000 for the loss of his right hand, $40,000 for loss of the left hand or the full $100,000 for both. Fingers and thumbs are valued proportionately.

No one

Ball player or business man, society debutante or mother—every one of us, no matter who we are, may offend unknowingly.

BODY ODOR...we may feel safe...and yet—

Take no chances—use this purifying toilet soap

"BODY ODOR never troubles me," is what we tell ourselves.

But we can never be sure. For, once an odor becomes familiar to us, our own sense of smell becomes deadened to it. Others know when we offend—we don't!

Facts about body odor

To live, we must perspire. Even on cool days our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours.

Whether we see it or not, this body moisture is always odorous. And it never plays favorites. Failing to take precautions, we may all offend—no matter what our position in life may be.

Yet there is a simple way to end body odor. Just wash and bathe often with the delightful toilet soap that millions enjoy—Lifebuoy—it deodorizes!

The same bland and abundant antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores. For complexions, too, Lifebuoy is marvelously beneficial. Millions find it ideal for every toilet purpose.

Note its hygienic scent

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

EXHIBITS FEATURE "SCHOOL WEEK"

Parents throughout the Pittsburgh district are being given an opportunity to see the advantages of education in the public schools this week as part of the National Bureau of Education's observance of "Public School Week." In all of the city schools varied programs are being carried out by teachers and students under the direction of principals whose aim is to develop a keener interest in education.

Exhibitions have been arranged at some of the schools, and at others meetings of parents and teachers are being held. Parents are being acquainted with the work of their children in school and are being permitted to visit classes to get first-hand knowledge of school work.

The local observance is being held under the direction of Dr. William M. Davidson, superintendent of Pittsburgh schools.

One of the interesting features of the observance here is the high school art exhibit which opened today in the Carnegie Institute galleries. Prizes amounting to $1,500 were awarded.

A number of Pittsburgh students were among prize winners. Eugene Gittings, 18, of Peabody High, was awarded first prize of $50 for a group of block prints in the division of graphic arts. He also received honorable mention in the George Bellows memorial awards. Martha Gleason, Peabody, received a $50 first prize in pottery; Charlotte Rosner, Schenley, received $50 first award in metal work.

The purpose of the exhibit is to stimulate development of pictorial and graphic arts and literature and drama among high school students. It is sponsored by the Scholastic, a national high school magazine.

JAR RINGS BANK BURGLAR ALARM

A flying trip to the Commonwealth Trust Company, Fourth avenue, was made by city detectives and police of the Central station last night when the burglar alarm in the institution sounded. Investigation revealed that a jar apparently had caused the alarm to ring. The police and detectives returned after a startled watchman had assured them that everything was quiet at the bank.

WOMAN IS HELD IN FRAUD

Mrs. George Ridenbaugh, 24, of 408 Jackson street, was held for court by Magistrate John Orie in Morals Court today on a charge of making false entries. She is a bookkeeper at the offices of the Maytag Washing Machine Company, 416 East Ohio street, and the charges were brought by A. P. Mitchell, manager, who testified that money had been taken and false entries made upon the books when purchasers paid their installments on merchandise.

WOMAN HURT IN CAR SUES FOR $25,000

Lillie Guggenheim brought suit in Common Pleas Court yesterday against the Pittsburgh Railways Company for $25,000 damages. She says a conductor closed a door on her arm on February 15, so violently that not only was her arm hurt, but she has suffered a nervous shock which may become permanent.

2nd and LAST DAY

ANOTHER day of great crowds and lively buying is promised tomorrow in the second and final day of Quarterly Clearance.

Further reductions will be made, as necessary, to assure a complete Clearance of surplus stocks and odd lots in every department.

The nature of the offerings—limited quantities for the most part—does not permit going into details, but assurance is given that there will be plenty of interesting things to choose from, at most welcome savings, throughout the store.

A few suggestions of some of the larger lots are given. Those who are out to profit as fully as possible by the occasion will look for the Quarterly Clearance signs in every department.

The backward spring and other circumstances have combined to make the Clearance necessities of the present quarter larger than usual, with correspondingly increased opportunities for savings, for those who come tomorrow.

A wide selection of Spring Dress Silks for smart uses. Earlier $1.65 to $4.95; in two groups, $1.00 and $1.95 yard.

Smart Woolens of dress, suit and coat weight, formerly $1.85 to $4.75. Choose now at $1.00 and $1.50 yard.

GARBAGE DUMPS DOOMED

Allegheny county's garbage dumps are doomed, according to an edict of Dr. John R. Conover, county medical director for the state of Pennsylvania. Legal notices will be sent to owners of property upon which 12 dumps are located and if the nuisances are not immediately abated, court proceedings will be instituted.

Garbage on the surface of the ground is barred by state law, according to Dr. Conover, who pointed out that persons who ignore notices are liable to $100 fine and 30 days imprisonment in addition to the cost to the state for cleaning up the property.

Most of the dumps in question are maintained by small contractors who collect the garbage of the various boroughs and instead of maintaining furnaces dump it in fields.

TEN HERBS DID WONDERS FOR HIM

Local Street Railway Employe Surprised at Way It Ended Health Troubles.

"I can honestly say that Ten Herbs has worked wonders for me," was the statement of Mr. O. M. McMillen, of Blawnox, Pa., (near Pittsburgh), to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine to crowds of people. "I had no idea that your medicine would benefit me the way it has, as I was in a very bad way," continued Mr. McMillen, who is an employe of the Pittsburgh Street Railway Co.

"My system was all out of order. I had a poor appetite, and when I did force myself to eat, gas would make me feel wretched and suffocated, and cause extreme pains. I was troubled with constipation, and finally became very nervous, with the result that I got very little sleep. My kidneys caused severe pains across my back. I lost all energy and ambition, and had to just drag myself to work.

"So many of my fellow employes were talking about Ten Herbs that I decided to try it myself. Now I have a better appetite, and food digests properly, as I am getting nourishment and strength from it—no more gas or pains under the shoulder blades. My bowels are regular, and my nerves more quiet. I sleep soundly and arise in the morning feeling rested and refreshed. I feel better in every respect and hope my endorsement of Ten Herbs will lead others to try it and get the same fine results that I did."

Not a day passes but what scores of men and women of this section tell the Ten Herbs Man how this new herbal compound ended their stomach, liver, or bowel trouble. The wonderful natural medicinal ingredients of this medicine also benefit the kidneys, and have a soothing, cleansing, correcting effect on the entire system, usually making one feel better in every way.

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Miss Haver Is Home-Wrecker Again, Luring Jean Hersholt From 'Straight and Narrow'

By MILDRED FILLMORE

PHYLLIS HAVER, who, by the way, is doing a Roxie Hart in town this week, is getting to be a regular home wrecker—on the screen. Right now, out in Hollywood studios, she is up to her usual tricks in David Wark Griffith's new directorial effort, "The Battle of the Sexes." In this picture the vamping Phyllis portrays a gold-digging flapper, who lures Jean Hersholt, a middle-aged father, from his comfortable, middle-class home.

But, so we understand, Mr. Hersholt fares better than did his fellow-actor, Emil Jannings, when the latter was vamped by the same Phyllis in "The Way of All Flesh." Instead of growing old out in the cold—(remember that fadeout with Herr Jannings disappearing up the street in a snowstorm?)—Mr. Hersholt finds his way back to the family hearthstone and happiness.

And Belle Bennett, suffering mother, who was left to struggle along with six or so children when Miss Haver lured Emil away, again is the innocent, indirect victim of that blonde's charms.

By now you may get the thought—and rightly so—that there is quite a bit of similarity between the Griffith and Jannings pictures, both in plot and cast. But don't take the view that D. W. stole his plot idea from "The Way of All Flesh." Nothing could be further from the truth. The current "The Battle of the Sexes" is a more elaborate filming of a four-reel picture of the same theme that Mr. Griffith made 15 years ago.

Names certainly are bounced about in the movies. Take Katherine Landy, for example. She has been having a regular orgy of name changing. She used to be Kathryn McGuire, you know. Then she married George Landy and took his name for the screen. But, so we learn from our sentinels on lookout duty in Hollywood, several thousand film fans wrote in to First National studios to find out what happened to Kathryn McGuire. The result is that Kathryn Landy has become Kathryn McGuire once more.

PARTY PLANNED FOR STAGE

Balieff's "Chauve-Souris" will give its nine thousandth performance Wednesday night, May 2, in the Alvin. This will be the twentieth birthday of the Bat Theater, of Moscow, and it will be observed with ceremonies at a party backstage of the Alvin after the show. Balieff has played an even 5,000 performances in Moscow, 420 in Berlin, 1,521 in Paris, 1,020 in London and 755 in New York.

Miss Louise Gerard Huntington will return to the cast of the George Sharp Players in "Tommy," next week. She will appear as a mother in a comedy of the American home. Anne Forrest and Ralph Morgan will play roles around which love interest revolves.

"Ned Wayburn's Buds of 1928" comes to the Davis Theater next week to head the bill of Keith-Albee vaudeville. There are 10 scenes, each of three or more numbers.

Teddy Joyce, coming to the Penn next week as a musician and dancer, is an all around performer. The picture will be "The Crowd."

Tickets are on sale today for the fourth week of "Wings" in the Nixon. This remarkable film of the war-birds in action in the World War has been smashing all records, it is said, as the Nixon is crowded nightly. There are two shows daily.

"In Bermuda," a revue, will be the stage attraction in the Stanley next week. On the screen will be Pola Negri in "Three Sinners."

Lieut. Gitz Rice, who is to headline the vaudeville in Loew's Aldine Theater next week is the composer of "Hinky Dinky Parley Voo." The screen feature will be "Let 'Er Go Gallagher."

In the Harris next week Adelaide Nelson and her Baby Elephants will be the vaudeville feature. The photoplay will be "Horseman of the Plains," starring Tom Mix.

"Night Life in Paris" will be the burlesque next week at the Academy, with Charles McNally and La Villa Maye in the featured roles.

Milton Sills, in "Burning Daylight," comes to the Grand next week. Doris Kenyon supports the star.

CANADA GIVES HERO'S FAREWELL TO BENNETT

FLIER'S BODY TO REST NEAR PEARY

QUEBEC, April 26.—(AP.)—Canada gave a hero's farewell today to Floyd Bennett as his body was started toward its resting place in the National Cementery of the United States.

Circling airplanes, dipping in salute above the cortege, honored the man whose exploits had brought the science of flying fresh laurels, while slowly through the tortuous streets of the ancient city rumbled the gun carriage bearing the body.

The Royal Twenty-second regiment was his escort and his tribute came with the tears of the men, women and children who with bowed heads quietly took their places in the ever-lengthening procession at it moved toward a waiting train.

BURIED NEAR PEARY

A conqueror by air of the northernmost summit of the earth, but denied by death the opportunity to aid in exploring the Antarctic in a similar manner, Bennett will be buried in Arlington tomorrow alongside the grave of Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, another Naval adventurer and discoverer of the North Pole.

Commander Richard E. Byrd will go to the Antarctic this fall as planned and will name his expedition the Floyd Bennett expedition to the South Pole in honor of the man who was to have been his second in command had he not died.

"I intend to carry out my original plans," Commander Byrd said today. "And as a memorial to my dear friend I will christen it the Floyd Bennett expedition to the South Pole."

The body is expected to reach New York at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Accompanied by a special escort of the city for which Bennett flew to Canada to convey assistance to the stranded trans-Atlantic fliers on Greenley Island, the body will be transferred to the Pennsylvania station and brought to Washington in time for burial late tomorrow afternoon. A Naval escort from Union Station to Arlington is planned.

Only a short time before his death Bennett had been granted an 18 months' leave of absence for the South Polar expedition with Commander Byrd. This was disclosed last night by Secretary Wilbur, who expressed in a formal statement the sorrow of the Navy over the loss of the gallant flier.

"The whole Navy Department," he said, in a message to Mrs. Bennett, "joins in condolences to you in your deep bereavement."

POLICE WITHOUT CLUES IN 2 STORE BURGLARIES

Police of Bridgeville are without clues in burglaries of two stores in that borough early yesterday. In a burglary at the store of Sam Harris, Baldwin street, more than $1,000 in loot was taken. Louis Tacconi, also of Baldwin street, reported more than $200 in merchandise stolen from his store. divisions.

P. R. R. BRANCH SHIFTED

Among changes announced in the operating department of the Pennsylvania Railroad to take effect May 1, the Zanesville branch of the Cincinnati division will be transferred to the Panhandle division, with headquarters at Pittsburgh.

George H. Schultz, coal gent at Pittsburgh, will become assistant purchasing agent here, succeeding W. G. Phelps, who retires.

A hearing scheduled to have been held here today by the Federal Trade Commission investigating the Aluminum Company of America, has been "postponed indefinitely." Word was received to that effect from Webb Woodfill, chief trial examiner of the commission in Washington.

CARETAKER AT CABIN DIES

Mrs. Anna H. Bleakney, 82, caretaker of the old Forsythe log cabin, a landmark, at 5540 Penn avenue, died today in her quarters on the second floor of the cabin, where she lived alone.

The aged woman called to Dennis Boyle, proprietor of a plumbing shop in the rear of the cabin, asking him to notify her brother that she was ill. He summoned a physician, but she was dead before he arrived. She had been caretaker for six years, being employed by the Pittsburgh Chapter, D. A. R.

PATRICIA PITT'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Debuts, Weddings, Shows and Benefits in Program for City's "Little Season"

THE news of the "little season" which Pittsburgh is enjoying is surely more varied than that of the usual season in the fall and winter. For in addition to debuts and weddings this spring, there are many attractive benefits, horse shows, and travel plans. And there is travel news about folks coming back from the warm climates where they have been wintering, and about plans for spending the summer in the North or abroad.

It's still true, though, don't you think, that a wedding is always more important than any other social event? I'm sure you'll be interested in the wedding of Mrs. Mary Weimer Spencer, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Jane Weimer and the late Samuel Clarence Weimer, of the Schenley Apartments, and Robert Gaylor Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrison, of the Schenley Apartments. They were married yesterday at 12:30 o'clock in the Twentieth Century Club, with the Rev. Dr. A. R. Robinson, of the Sixth United Presbyterian Church, as the officiant.

Only a few intimate friends in addition to the families attended the ceremony. Upon returning from a motor trip abroad, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison will live in the Schenley apartments.

Among the out-of-town guests seen at the wedding were the Junior C. Edward Murrays, of Princeton New Jersey; the Harry V. Maxwells, of Spring Lake and Pinehurst, North Carolina; Miss Sarah Mary Barnes, of Haverford Thomas Morrison, Jr., of Trenton N. J.; David Garrett Kerr, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Andrews, the Judah Colt Spencers; Mr. and Mrs. A. Hunter Willis and the Harry Moores, all of Erie, and the Robert Ogden Beattys, of Hamburg, N. Y.

I'm afraid Pittsburghers returning from a cruise of the South African coast or the Mediterranean are going to find the spring breezes rather chilly. They'll be so glad, though to see their families again that they'll ignore the ewather, I suppose.

Mrs. Birney K. McMechen and Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Turnbull, Jr., and family have returned from South Africa, I hear.

And Miss Nell Stewart, Mrs. William Zang and Miss Nell Stewart Zang, who have been cruising on the Mediterranean, are expected home.

The George I. Holdships and Mrs. Charles Wharton are returning from an Italian tour.

To come a little nearer home, I hear that Mrs. William D. Hamilton has returned from Washington, where she attended the Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Another Pittsburgher back from wintering in France is Mrs. Thomas Marshall III.

COLLEGE CLUB HEARS WASHINGTON EDUCATOR

Stressing the need for culture and saying that America has gone education mad, Mrs. Lucy Madeira Wing, head of the Madeira School for Girls in Washington, D. C., spoke yesterday on "Culture and Education" before the South Hills College Club. Culture is an attitude of mind and education is training, the speaker said. The occasion was the club's annual scholarship tea in the Dormont High School and was attended by 250 girls from the sophomore, junior and senior classes of the school. Mrs. H. R. Johnston, president of the club, made the address of welcome and Mrs. E. C. Noyes, vice president, directed the program, which included, in addition to Mrs. Wing's talk, numbers by a string trio from the music department of Carnegie Institute of Technology. On behalf of the club Mrs. J. R. Greene awarded Edith Turner, a senior in Dormont High, the $200 scholarship and Miss Katherine Palen, a freshman at Margaret Morrison College, a scholarship of $100. Mrs. Greene also announced that cash gifts are to be made to Lillian Green, a junior at Pennsylvania College for Women, and Laura Beyers, a sophomore at Allegheny College, who won the club scholarship in their respective high school classes. The tea hour, which rounded out the afternoon, was in charge of Mrs. L. L. Mooran.

A program of interest has been arranged for the guest night musicale which the Aspinwall Woman's Club will give tomorrow night in the clubhouse. The club choral will sing under the direction of Mrs. J. R. Henry and accompanied by Mrs. H. P. Mutch. W. H. Reuter will offer baritone solos, Mrs. Edward Beachler, soprano numbers, and Howard Seifert and Homer Wickline will give piano and 'cello selections, while a quartet composed of Mrs. I. S. Heidler, Mrs. Harry McKown, Mrs. E. A. Blasdell and Miss Frances McCaslin will present vocal numbers. Mrs. Bessie Bell Foster will round out the entertainment with dramatic readings. Mrs. W. H. Reuter is serving as chairman of hostesses.

Sunkist
Easiest to peel and slice

Sunkist Oranges for quick desserts

Five-minute desserts and ten-minute salads are best made with California Sunkist Oranges because they are easiest to peel and separate, and easiest to slice delightfully thin. Sunkist Oranges are firm and tender and give the most delightful results.

Sunkist Oranges are either seedless or practically so and offer no annoying task in the preparation as food. Not only time is saved, but the juicy, golden fruit is lusciously appetizing as you place it on the table.

Serve more California oranges for their joyous, inviting goodness, but most important, for their health building qualities. Oranges not only contain a wealth of vitamins and mineral salts, but are one of the most potent correctives and preventives of ACIDOSIS known to Medical Science. Orange juice before breakfast, lunch and dinner will benefit you materially. Your doctor will confirm this statement if you will ask him.

All through the year, fresh luscious California Sunkist Oranges are obtainable everywhere fruit is sold. They are uniformly good; the Sunkist trademark assures that. There is a size for every pocketbook, but all are of true California Sunkist quality.

Richest Juice — Finest Flavor

To be sure of getting California Sunkist Oranges look for the trade-mark on the fruit and on the wrapper.

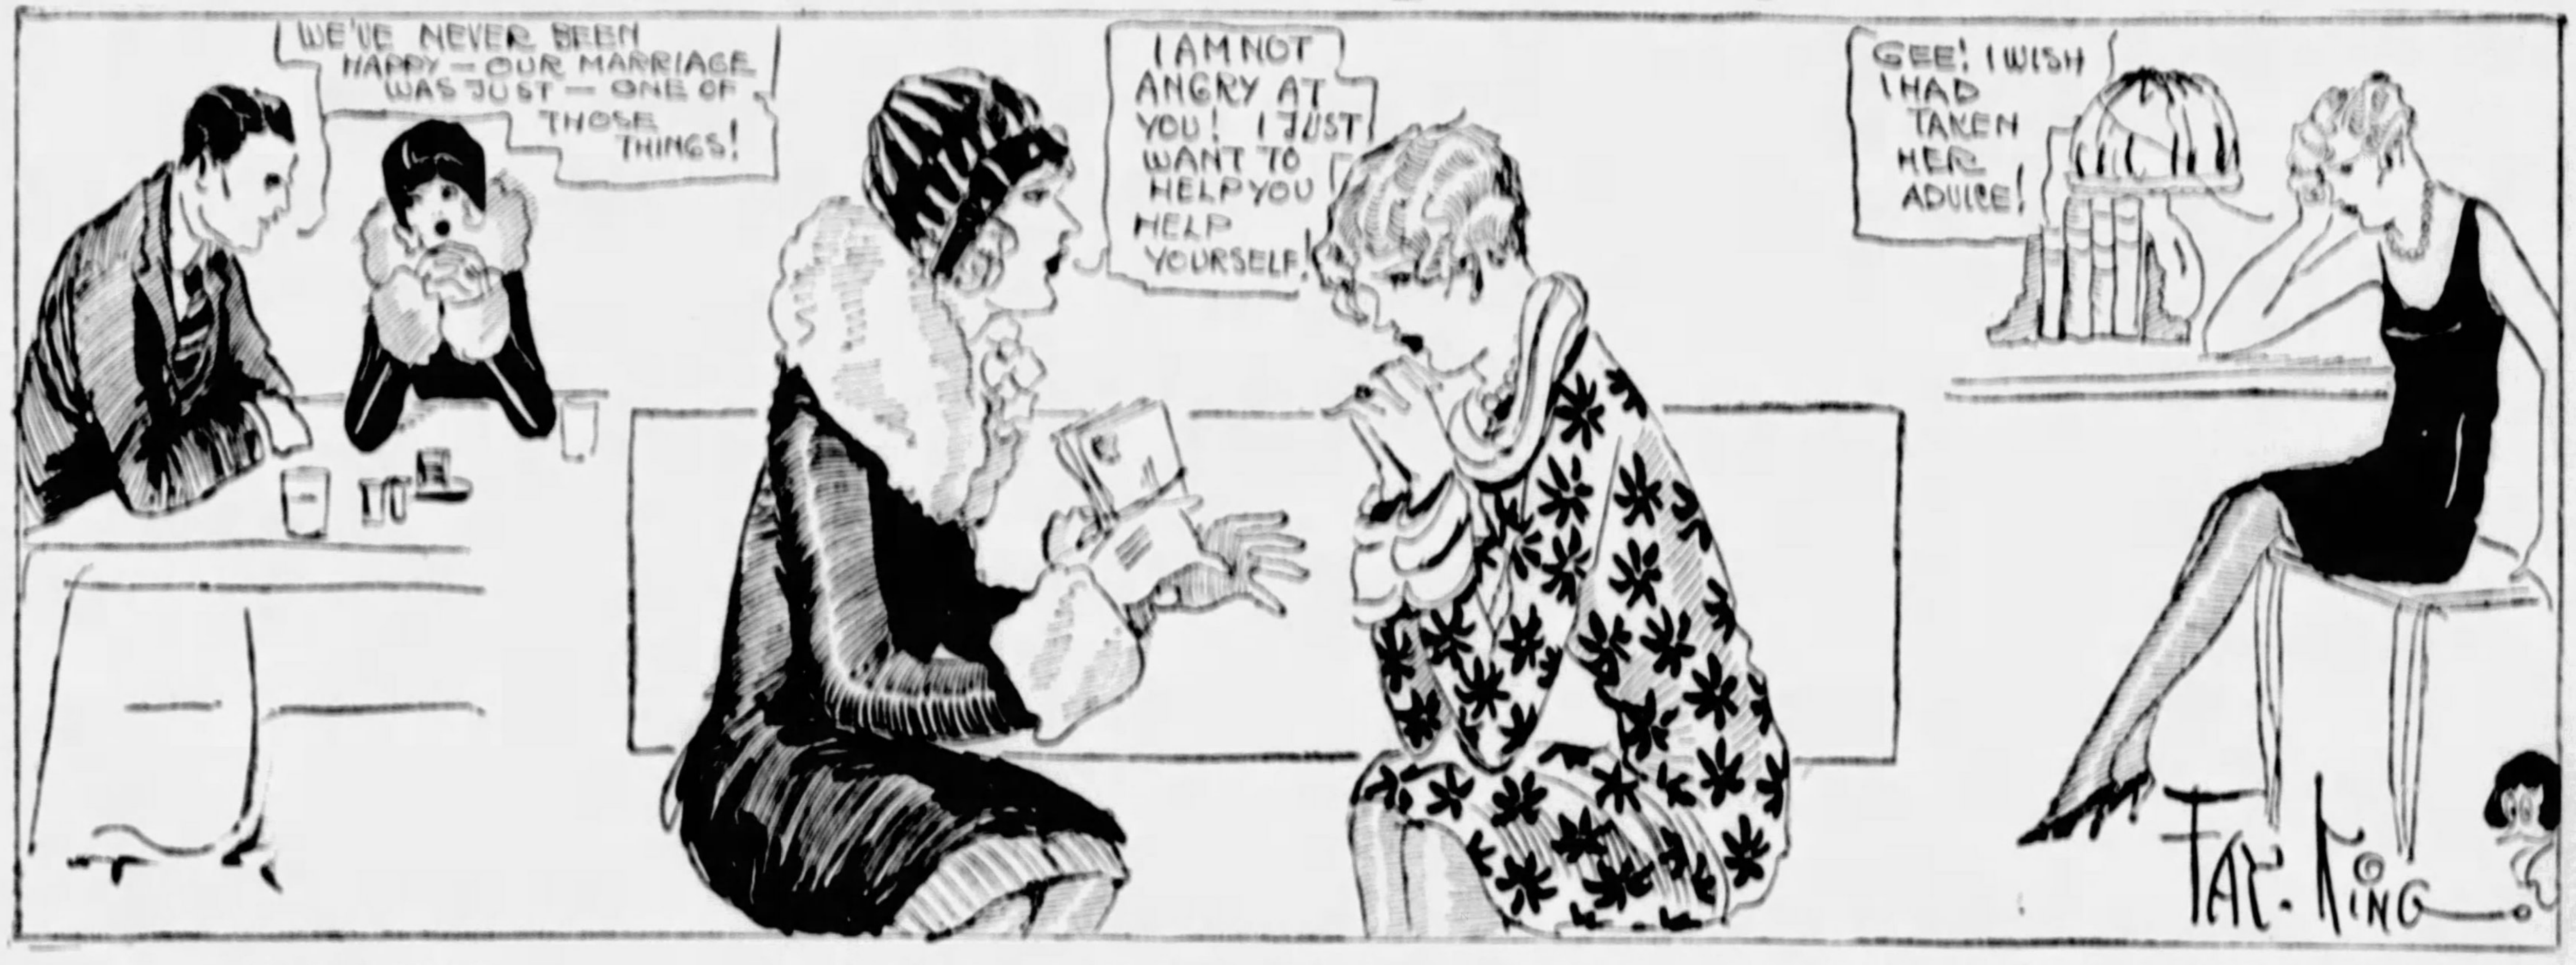
Fay King Warns of Complaining Husbands



WE'VE NEVER BEEN HAPPY—OUR MARRIAGE WAS JUST—ONE OF THOSE THINGS!
I AM NOT ANGRY AT YOU! I JUST WANT TO HELP YOU HELP YOURSELF!
GEE! I WISH I HAD TAKEN HER ADVICE!
FAY KING

By FAY KING.

A CERTAIN attractive young woman gave her interest, sympathy and love to a certain married man who poured out to her the usual line of unhappiness and misunderstanding that existed in his marriage.

His wife, learning of the affair, called on the young woman, who was indeed surprised to find his wife a very attractive woman and not in the least on the warpath.

"I'm not angry with you," said the wife; "but I know how these things are, and I have come because I want to help you avoid what I have gone through.

"I know he has pictured me to you as an impossible person and our marriage as a great mistake. I have brought you some letters which I would like you to read. They were written to me by my husband to his first wife, and I was in the same position that you are now in regarding myself."

The girl read the letters, and could not help thinking they were indeed very ardent and contained many of the same endearments and explanations that she, in turn, was now receiving.

The interview was amicable, but after the wife had left, the girl decided that, after all, she was just a clever woman making her fight in a new way.

While she kept her word to not tell the husband, she went right ahead believing him, and in time when he had divorced the wife they were married.

This little true story came to my mind today because I have just heard that he has left his third wife and is telling the same story to another girl now!

Neglected Fevers May Seriously Affect the Heart

THERE are many forms of real disease of the heart. All of them are uncomfortable, or serious, or both. So vital an organ is the heart that to have it diseased or even disturbed in function is anything but pleasant.

DR. COPELAND

There is one kind of heart trouble that rarely presents itself as a condition wholly independent of some other disease. I refer to "endocarditis," meaning, as the name indicates, inflammation of the lining membrane of the heart.

This condition does appear frequently, however, as a sequel to some other disease. The original condition is referred to as the "primary" trouble. The endocarditis is secondary to this.

Rheumatic fever will present heart complication of this sort in fully one-third of the cases. Indeed, all rheumatic conditions of an acute nature are very likely indeed to involve the heart.

Tonsilitis is a disease that runs such a definite course that for many years I have classified it as one of the major infectious diseases. It is now quite generally classified in this way. Endocarditis may be one of the after effects of tonsilitis.

Scarlet fever, and, less commonly, the other communicable diseases of childhood, may produce inflammation of the lining of the heart. Inflammation of the sinuses of the nose, pneumonia, erysipelas and blood poisoning of any kind may cause it.

When one considers the circulation of the blood and the fact that it bathes every tissue of the body, it is easy to understand how the germs and products of disease are very likely to be carried to the heart. The wonder is this delicate and vital organ is not more frequently attacked.

The cavities of the heart are separated by delicate valves. Upon their flexibility and accurate fitting together, depends their usefulness.

In endocarditis particles of material stick to the valves, gum up their edges and ultimately produce thickening and stiffness. In this way there is serious interference in the action of the valves.

Likewise, there is another danger to the patient. These little accumulations may break off and be carried by the blood stream to the lungs, the kidneys and other parts of the body.

The heart is suspended in a sac called the "pericardium." This is a strong, fibrous, dense membrane with a delicate lining.

Inflammation of this structure, a condition known as "pericarditis," is not an uncommon thing. It has been said that at some time or other in his life, one person in 20 will have pericarditis.

It is like endocarditis in that it is secondary to many acute diseases, like rheumatic fever, tonsilitis, tuberculosis, pneumonia and scarlet fever. It may follow Bright's disease, diabetes or arterio-sclerosis. Fortunately, the simple form is never fatal and it is not long before the slight symptoms disappear.

The teaching of this talk today is that fever and other ailments should be given prompt attention. In themselves they may be of little consequence, but if neglected may lead to serious trouble.

Answers to Health Queries

H. F. B. Q.—What should a woman weigh who is 40 years old and 5 feet 3½ inches tall?

2.—What causes me to become sleepy after eating.

A.—For your age and height you should weigh about 137 pounds.

2.—This condition is probably due to auto-intoxication.

M. L. T. Q.—How can I get rid of blackheads and pimples?

2.—What should I do for large pores?

A.—Correct the diet by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee. Eat only simple food. Almost always constipation, or at least sluggish bowel movements, are present. Exercise is essential.

2.—Apply hot and cold compresses alternately to the face night and morning.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, April 27

And the thoughts of men are widened with the process of the Sun.—TENNYSON.

THE affairs of this day may be expected to move swiftly after a long period of delays and obstructions. The breaking up of this crystallized condition may bring substantial reward for patience and perseverance as well as arduous labor. In domestic, social, artistic and affectional matters there should also be active and prosperous conditions, but be careful of the speech.

Those whose birthday it is may plan for a year of rich return for past diligence and patient application. There should be substantial benefits after a prolonged season of disappointment and postponements. Personal affiliations and activities should also thrive and bring happiness, but speak carefully.

A child born on this day should have many cultural graces and substantial virtues. It should be popular, well-liked and should attain stable place and fortune from its own efforts, but it should shun cutting and sarcastic tongue.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

MEN ARE WHAT WE MARRY

STRANGE how soon a man gets "winded" when he discovers that he is all alone in the race for a girl's favor.

There are two kinds of men—those who are like a peach, soft and sweet on the outside, but stony at heart—and those who are like a nut—hard and unimpressionable on the outside, but really tender at heart.

* * *

Marriage would be an easier job if every housewife could discover an infallible recipe for uncorking a husband's pocket and coaxing money out of it, and another for extracting a compliment from him without using a vacuum cleaner.

HELEN ROWLAND

Every woman should marry, according to the masculine cynics, but all the men should remain single. Apparently woman's place is in the home, but man's place is in the bachelor flat. So what can the poor girl marry?

* * *

Jealousy is always a false alarm. By the time a woman has turned on the extinguisher the flame of her husband's love for the other woman has practically died out anyway—and he is off starting another bonfire.

* * *

Before marriage a girl fancies that the most important thing about a man is the state of his heart or his pocketbook. After marriage she discovers that it is the state of his gastric juice.

"No man can be as bad as a wicked woman," says Judge Kavanagh. True! And no man can be as angelic as a good woman, as ravishing as a beautiful woman, as bitter as a jealous woman or as foolish as a silly woman. Woman is the SUPERLATIVE of the human race.

* * *

When it comes to marrying, a man can only try to get what he THINKS he wants in a life-partner—and a woman can only try to think that she wants what she GETS.

* * *

Divorce is the surgical operation that cuts your troubles in half—and takes away the better half!

For the Lovelorn

Undecided

DEAR MISS GALE:

I have been reading your column for quite awhile and find that you give very satisfactory advice. I have a problem. Can you help me? Tom and I have been friends since we were mere children, and I admire him very much, but do not love him. He loves me and I know that I am the only girl he ever went with. I only go with him about once or twice a week. Now, Miss Gale, Bob, whom I love and have known for two years, thinks I go steady with Tom and love him, therefore he is real friendly with me always, but keeps his feelings to himself. He goes with a girl (a friend of mine) now, who likes him, but somehow or other he doesn't seem to care much for her. Miss Gale, it hurts me to see him going with her, because I don't think he likes her, and I would willingly give Tom up for him if I was sure that was what is holding him back. Would it be all right for me to invite him to my home some night, or would this be an injustice toward my girl friend whom he goes with? But remember, I love him and many others have remarked about his attentions toward me. Tom is jealous and if he knew about this I know what it would mean with him and me, but I'm willing to do it for Bob. Miss Gale, ple [illegible] this as soon as possible, for you can see how I feel about it.

UNDECIDED.

Since neither of you is engaged, I see no reason why you shouldn't invite this boy to call on you. But be very sure that he really prefers you to the other girl before doing so.

Anxious

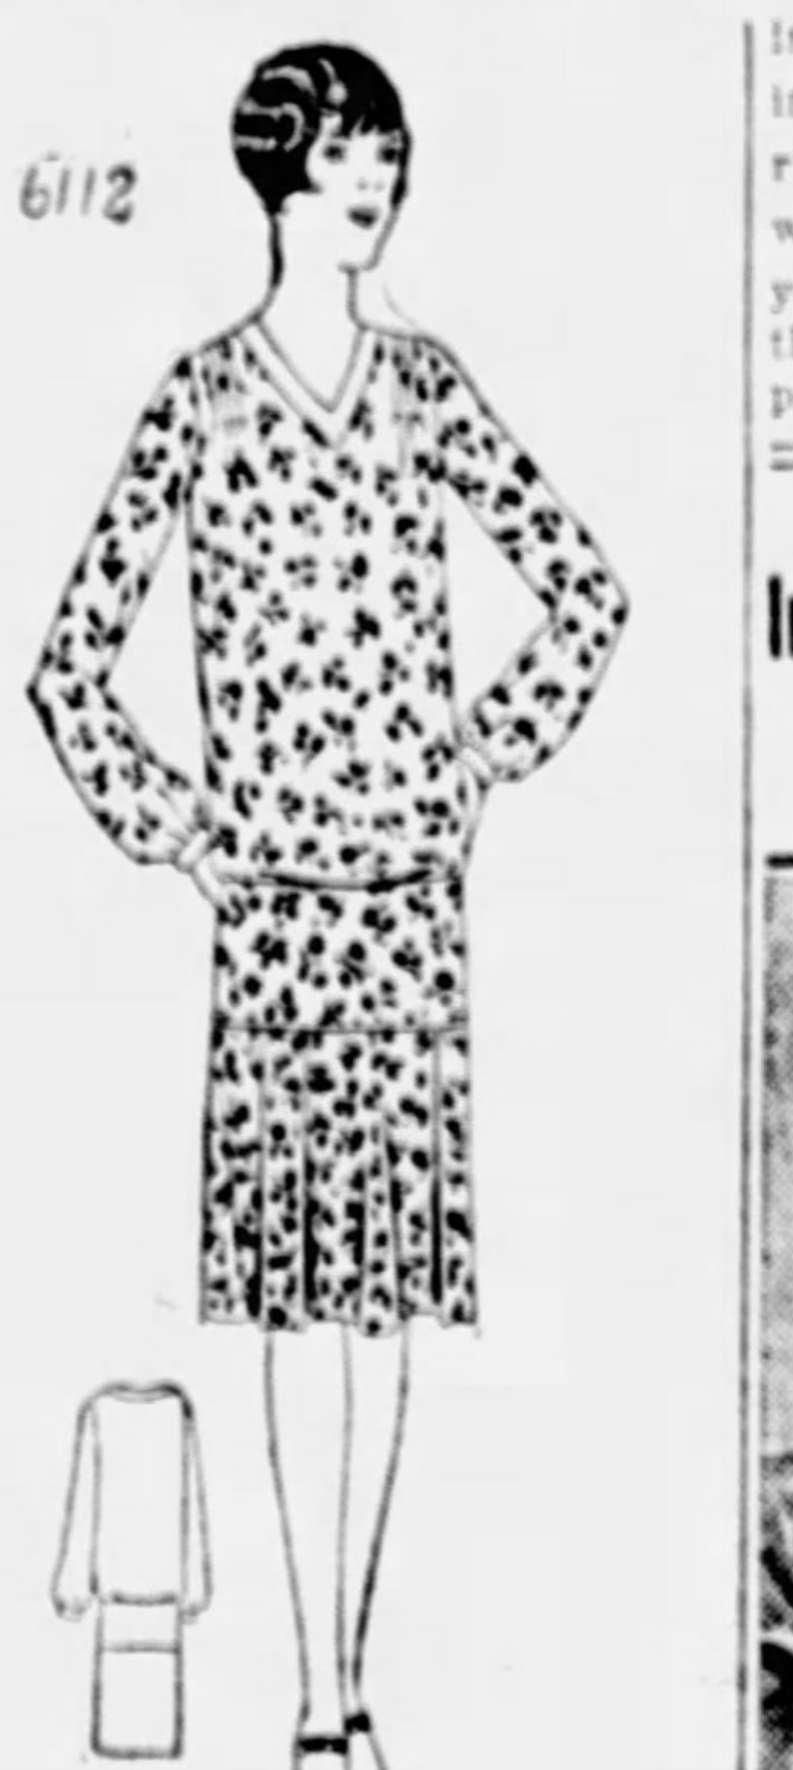
DEAR MISS GALE:

We are two girls about 18 and 19 years of age. We are considered good looking and popular with the opposite sex. We do not smoke, drink or pet. Most of the boys we know like to smoke, drink or pet. Do you think we should form these bad habits? Are there any boys who do not indulge in these things that write to your column? If so, we would like to correspond through your column if we may.

ANXIOUS.

I am very glad you have such high standards, my dears. Lots of boys feel about this as you do, naturally. But my correspondents can know each other only through the column. No names are ever divulged.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern



A STYLISH FROCK FOR YOUTHFUL FIGURES.

Printed voile or georgette, as well as crepe de chine, and China silk are desirable for this model.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 14, 16, 18 and 20 years. An 18-year size will require 3⅝ yards of 39-inch material. To make yoke facings and cuffs of contrasting material will require ¼ yard 32 inches wide. The underbody will require 1 yard 32 inches wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 1½ yards.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"Undies" faded? TINTEX so easily restores the color

....the very next time you launder your "undies," notice their color. Has their prettiness gone because the color has faded?

....then sprinkle a little Tintex in a basin of water and "tint as you rinse" in the final rinsing water. Sounds simple doesn't it—and it is simple! Millions of women know that Tintex is easiest to use. And the results are always perfect—never a sign of a streak or spot.

....these millions of women know, too, that Tintex is for every home-tinting and dyeing need. There is Tintex in the Gray Box for tinting and dyeing everything from sports-wear to curtains. And there is Tintex in the Blue Box for tinting lace-trimmed silks without coloring the lace. Ask your dealer to let you see the Tintex Color Card which shows the very colors in vogue for both your wardrobe and home-decorations.

—THE TINTEX GROUP—

Products for every Home-tinting and Dyeing Need

Tintex Gray Box—Tints and dyes all materials.

Tintex Blue Box—For lace-trimmed silks—tints the silk, lace remains white.

Tintex Color Remover—Removes old color from any material so it can be dyed a new color.

Whitex—A special bluing for restoring whiteness to yellowed silks and woolens.

Expectant Mothers

Relieved of Much Unnecessary Suffering

Doctor's Discovery Praised

HOW to avoid suffering is one of the most important things in the world for you to know, right now, mother-to-be! Use the discovery of an eminent physician.

Mrs. John S. Herr, Manheim, Pa., writes: "Mother's Friend did wonders for me. I can almost say my baby was born without pain."

Tonight! Apply Mother's Friend to the abdomen, back and hips. It relieves tension and soothes the nerves.

Do this each night and you will be amazed how effectively Mother's Friend aids the muscles and tissues to expand more easily during expectancy.

Start using tonight—the sooner the better and write for free booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" (sent in plain envelope). Mother's Friend is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

Bradfield Regulator Co., Desk 25, Atlanta, Ga.

Healthy

"baby teeth" help guard your children against disease

HERE'S what a prominent dental authority says: "Cleaning the teeth with a safe dentifrice should begin as soon as the first teeth appear. Careful experiments have proved that when children's mouths are kept in a healthful condition by the use of a safe dentifrice such as Squibb's Dental Cream, made with Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, those children are protected to a remarkable degree from the most prevalent children's diseases."

Abundant clinical experience has demonstrated that Squibb's Dental Cream, by neutralizing acids, particularly at The Danger Line—where teeth and gums meet, protects teeth from decay and gums from irritation.

It cleans the teeth beautifully. And, because it contains no harsh abrasives, it's safe to use in the most tender young mouth. Children enjoy its pleasant flavor. It is harmless if swallowed. 40c for a generous tube.

To All Who Suffer Stomach Agony, Gas and Indigestion

May's Drug Stores Make This Offer

Money Back If One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Doesn't Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used.

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness and bloating that you think your heart is going to stop beating.

Your stomach may be so distended that your breathing is short and gaspy.

You think, perhaps, you are suffocating.

You are dizzy and pray for quick relief—what's to be done?

Just one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Pepsin and in ten minutes the gas disappears, the pressing on the heart ceases and you can breathe deep and naturally.

Oh! What blessed relief; but why not get rid of such attacks altogether? Why have chronic indigestion at all?

With this wonderful medicine you can overcome indigestion or dyspepsia, or any abnormal condition that keeps the stomach in constant rebellion and one bottle will prove it.

Over 6,000 bottles sold in one small New Jersey town in one year—and the best druggists the country over concede that its phenomenal sales are due to the fact that the most stubborn chronic cases are promptly conquered. Ask for Dare's Mentha Pepsin, a pleasant to take, health-building stomach elixir that May's Drug Stores and regular pharmacists anywhere in America guarantee.

The woman who cut corners with health

FOR a long time she had gotten by. Living on shoestring energy. Cutting corners with health. But now she was paying. Now, the least little thing tired her completely out. Enthusiasm, fun, play—they were almost total strangers. And every mirror mocked her to her face.

What a tragedy that so many people fail to realize the trouble constipation can cause—but let it go on neglected, doing its deadly work. Constipation saps vital strength. Thieves youth. Mars beauty. Throbbing heads and aching backs, dragging feet and lusterless eyes, are its fruits—and it frequently leads to serious disease in the end.

And the pity is that, all the while, it is so easy to relieve. So simple to prevent. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring prompt relief. Pleasant, safe prevention!

ALL-BRAN is effective and natural

Bulk or roughage relieves constipation in a natural way. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. This bulk carries moisture throughout the digestive system—gently exercising the intestines, sweeping out poisonous wastes. Part-bran products seldom contain sufficient bulk to be completely effective. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran and accomplishes 100% results.

So much better than harsh drugs

ALL-BRAN brings lasting relief. Far better than habit-forming pills and laxatives whose dose must be constantly increased and which are only temporarily effective. An appetizing cereal food. ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—with fruits or honey added. Soaking a few moments in the milk brings out all its nut-like flavor. Mix it with other cereals too. Sprinkle into soups. Use it in many kinds of cookery. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

But be sure you have genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Don't take chances with part-bran substitutes, which, at best, can be but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ASKS COURT TO RETURN CHILD

Charging that Bessie, his six-year-old daughter, is being illegally detained by her grandmothers, Mrs. Elizabeth Keil of Thompson Run road, McCandless township, Fred Kerchner of Frederick street, North Side, yesterday instituted habeas corpus proceedings to regain possession of the child.

Kerchner in his petition charges that the grandmother, who has been keeping the child since the death of Mrs. Kerchner several months ago, has repeatedly refused to yield possession.

The hearing was set for May 4, by Judge James H. Gray of Common Pleas Court.

2 HURT WHEN AUTO SKIDS

BEAVER, Pa., April 26. — Two persons were injured seriously and four others escaped unhurt when an auto skidded over a 35-foot embankment onto the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at Barclay's Crossing near Midland, Pa., yesterday afternoon.

Miss Irene Cluter, 21, of East Liverpool, O., and Clarence Delling, 23, of Chester, Va., suffered head injuries and body bruises. Both were removed to a Rochester, Pa., hospital.

C. L. Hawkins of Congo, W. Va., driver of the car, his wife, and two small children escaped injury.

TRIAL BOARD URGES DISMISSAL OF MORGAN

Charged with conduct unbecoming an officer, Patrolman Martin L. Morgan, a policeman for 16 years, was recommended for dismissal yesterday by the police trial board. He was said to have failed to make a defense to the accusation that he had created a disturbance in his home and had resisted two policemen who had been sent to arrest him.

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain. How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from May Drug Co., or any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are sallow and drawn. Unsightly pimples. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth, its energy, its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure.

Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets will save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous griping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c.

OLD FOLKS!

Why Not Feel Younger and Watch the Years Drop Off?

Don't give up—Don't become one of those always ailing, inactive old people.

Start tomorrow morning to practice the simple little Kruschen habit of inner cleanliness wherein lies the secret of youth and vigor.

It's the easiest thing you ever heard of.

Just drop two tablets of Kruschen Salts into your morning cup of coffee—you can't taste them—but what a change this little habit makes in the way you feel.

The body responds to the action of Kruschen Salts like a withered plant does to fresh cool water.

Clogged up eliminating organs start to function naturally and regularly—impurities that have been poisoning your system are carried off and pure vigorous blood sent pulsing through the veins, giving new life and vitality to millions of tiny blood cells.

Bear in mind that Kruschen is a combination of six mineral salts and these six salts are vitally necessary to vigorous, healthy life.

60 tablets, 60 cents (30 days' treatment), at McCulloch Drug Stores and druggists the world over.

To Clear Skin Of Pimples

Do It Quickly And At Small Cost—It's Easy This Way.

Why should anyone allow pimples, blackheads and other blemishes to mar the beauty of their skin when they can be so easily gotten rid of with Peterson's Ointment?

All you have to do is to rub the Ointment thoroughly and regularly into the skin for a few days till it is soft, clear and perfect.

Emma Lillian Baier of St. Louis writes:—"I was very pleased with your sample, and I advise every family to have a box in their medicine cabinet. It has cleared my skin wonderfully and I appreciate your sending me a sample. I am going to buy a large box and always have it ready for use. It sure is a wonderful salve. I wouldn't be without it."

And Edward King of Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: "Had pimples all over my face for over a year, but Peterson's did the work." 35 cents a box at all drug stores.

PITTSBURGH STUDENTS REPRESENTED AMONG 700 FROM ALL OF NATION

Announcement of prize winners has been made in the first annual national high school art exhibition, opening today at Carnegie Art Galleries. More than 700 students, including Pittsburghers, are represented in the showing. Prizes amount to $1,500. The exhibition is held under the auspices of "The Scholastic," high school periodical. Prize awards shown above: Robert Spray, Oakland, Cal., wins $100. George Bellows Memorial prize, attached by Miss Rnna Frerdel; George Bilder, Dayton, O., the second sculpture prize; Katheryn Keillor, Muskegon, Mich., the third sculpture prize; and Ralph Craig, Indianapolis, the first sculpture prize. The exhibit is comprehensive, including various arts and crafts. Local winners are Eugene Githings, 18 Peabody High School; Charlotte Rosen, 18, Schenley High School, and Marthe Gleason, Peabody High School.

TRADER HORN

THE GREATEST ADVENTURE STORY OF MODERN TIMES

'Missing Link,' Gorilla-Like Dwarf, Amuses Horn

Strange Human Being, a Slave, Refuses to Leave His Master, Though Twice Freed

What Has Gone Before.

An 18-year-old English boy, Alfred Aloysius Horn, in the Seventies went to Africa. He was initiated into the worship of Izaaga, the White Goddess. She is the daughter of an English trader of aristocratic family. He hunts a man-eating leopard with the natives, and a tree-leopard that gives the dogs a fight.

Novelty for American Readers

By ALFRED ALOYSIUS HORN

Edited by ETHELREDA LEWIS.

CHAPTER XII.

AS THE sun was now about to set, I had a look at the barrier reef, which seemed to be lit up with silver and gold, whilst the spray thrown up by the whale rock glinted like a shower of river diamonds of first water. Taking along my dead tree leopard, we returned to camp and found all engaged in roasting meat and making ready for a feast.

ALFRED A. HORN

Shortly after our arrival the chief's canoe, accompanied by two war canoes, arrived. The meeting of my boy and his parents was very affectionate, especially the mother, who was glad to see him now a grown man. The chief was pleased to see me and told me the Camma people would always do their best to help me in any way. His three daughters and also Renchoro's sweetheart, to whom he was betrothed, came along with the chief.

The harps now began to play and the drums to beat, and in no time the conjo or merrymaking and feasting commenced. Palm wine was consumed in large quantities, dances of various kinds were indulged in, and it was early morning before the chief took his departure in the moonlight.

Gorilla-Like Dwarf

The Camma people like to make their journeys in the moonlight, which is almost as bright as day in Equatorial Africa, so that one can easily see to read a book, provided his eyesight is normal. I left the merrymakers after the chief had departed and got a few hours' rest, as I wished to start up the Ogowe River with the change of the tide, which is felt as far as Angola and is a great help to traders.

By far the most amusing native I ever saw was a black dwarf. His face was exactly like a good-looking gorilla. He was about four feet in height, had a tremendous chest, whilst his arms were unusually long, reaching beyond his knees.

He had a long body well supplied with hair, also a large mouth decked out with beautiful teeth—the eye teeth were very large. He could imitate every move of the man ape and caused more amusement than anyone else at the conjo or dance.

He would take a banana I gave him, peel it clumsily like a gorilla, whilst he grunted and rolled his eyes around at great speed under his thick protruding eyebrows. This done he would run backwards and forwards, always using the knuckles of his hands and always using his feet in galloping so that they met the ground before the knuckles of his hands.

Slave Loves Master

He would then turn over quickly an imitation stone and would commence grunting with pleasure if the imaginary piece of rock were to his liking. He was clever indeed and was born on the high Congo. As when he was young he was a mischievous youth, he was sold into slavery by his father, who he said was a good old man, but could do nothing with him.

He was sold several times and eventually reached Samba Falls, where he was purchased by his boss, the salt-maker, with whom he never intended to part, as his master was always kind to him. He had purchased his freedom twice.

His master had taken him far down the coast and sold him to a Portuguese, but he had run away and returned to his master. The second time his master happened to be hard up he had been sold by agreement to a man on the Cameroon coast but ran away, meeting his old boss on his return. He had always returned to his master, thus buying his freedom twice.

The Missing Link?

The author rather likes the story of the dwarf. He thinks Americans will like it too, as the following remarks of Mrs. Lewis show:

"Aye, the dwarf will provide the novelty. I sure thought he'd come in well in this chapter. His strange antics provide a little relief. I've often wondered at his origin and I sometimes wonder if it's been my destiny to set eyes on that so-called rara avis, the missing link. Renchoro, my boy, could never take his eyes off him. All the boys were the same, crowding round. He was above par as a draw, that dwarf. Nice feller, though. Affectionate to the core.

"Aye, the Americans must have novelties, whether in search of one of these breakfast foods or in literary matters. I'm not saying it's good for them. Bacon for breakfast and Shakespeare for reading've been good enough for Lancashire and England, generally speaking, for a number of generations."

Tomorrow Trader Horn writes of his plans to abstract the Great Ruby from the Josh House to sell it for the benefit of the White Goddess and replace it by an imitation.

Chances Only 3 To 10 of Getting Ideal Wife

CHICAGO, April 26.—(AP.)—Man's chances of getting an ideal wife are only 3 ou tof 10, Mrs. Glarence G. Goodwin, past president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, has computed.

"American wives fall inot five classes," said Mrs. Goodwin addressing a woman's meeting. She divided them as follows:

	PER CENT.
Home-maker, or "ideal" type	30
Jazz, or "can opener" type	20
Nagging type	15
Drudge type	20
Baby doll type	5

Most women would turn out to be good home-makers, she said, if they were supplied with the "makings," which she described as "good plumbing, well-built kitchens and labor-saving devices of all sorts."

THIRD DEAD IN FAMILY SHOOTING

DONORA, Pa., April 26.—The toll of dead in a family quarrel reached three early today when John Fancsali, 25, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Anna Lacus, 55, died in Memorial Hospital.

Fancsali shot his estranged wife, Annie, and her parents, then himself yesterday when an attempt at reconciliation failed. The father-in-law, Andrew Lacus, died soon afterward. The wife is in a critical condition in the hospital.

The shooting occurred in Lacus' home in the presence of Gertrude, 5, daughter of the Fancsalis.

NEVILLE ISLAND FURNACE SOLD

The Sharpsville Furnace Company has purchased the Neville Island furnace of the American Steel and Wire Company, and is planning the construction of a large coke plant there, according to reports today.

The Neville Island property contains approximately 200 acres with water and rail connections and a 600-ton blast furnace.

The Sharpsville Furnace Company is an independent merchant concern operating one 450-ton furnace at Sharpsville, Pa. Recently it abandoned construction of a coke plant at Sharpsville because of adverse freight rates. The company is one of the oldest independents in the region, having started to make iron in 1847.

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

By HAVEY J. BOYLE

AT THE marathon dancing contest at Motor Square Garden: Milt Crandall, the promoter. . . . He wears a soft hat, which from much waving during his conversation has taken a queer shape. When Milt gets talking about the marathon off comes the hat and out comes a speech on the glory of the marathon. . . . Muckles, who has to do with circulation, whispers: "That one couple there—they're friends of mine. Put their name in the paper." "And what are their names?" "James Pedro and Margaret Betz." At that time they had been dancing some 24 hours. "I'll bring them over," says Muckles. They dance over to where we are sitting. "How do you do," says Mr. Pedro, while with an arm about Miss Betz's waist, he dances slowly. "What do you do when you don't marathon dance?" we asked Mr. Pedro. "Why, I was a bartender," he replies, "but at the present time I work for a baking company." "Pretzels?" we asked, scenting an association of ideas. "No, everything," said Mr. Pedro. "And Miss Betz?" we asked. "She works at the same place." Presumably, they were just off on a little holiday of some hours' dancing, with $1,000 as a prize for the couple that dances the longest.

IN THE rest quarters where the dancers rest 15 minutes after every hour of dancing: The dark-haired youngster is being attended by her partner who is rubbing her bare feet with an easing potion. Across the way, a blonde tilts back her head while a friend drops a solution in her eyes, presumably to help her keep awake. On a cot is stretched a male dancer who is being worked upon by a rubber. Here is a dancer with a scorn for training—he is spending his rest period puffing away at a cigaret. "Hard on your wind," we said, pointing to the cigaret. "No," he replied. "I limit myself to one cigaret to every rest period. My wind is good."

O-OO-H !
YOUR DOGS ARE IN BAD SHAPE !

THAT young lady in a party dress, now that the music has struck up again, has a familiar face. Let's see now! No, we can't remember. But now she calls out to a friend. Ah, the voice is familiar, and now we remember at last. That voice is associated with a familiar cry: "Ham and and a waffle—well." Ham and eggs well done; ah, yes, a waitress at a popular waffle shop in town. So, Miss Waitress has taken up marathon dancing.

* * *

A BROAD-SHOULDERED fellow dances with the girl who won the last championship. He is picked as a long stayer. He once was a sparring mate of Harry Greb, they tell you.

* * *

IT IS common to see a weary girl place her head on her partner's chest and in this fashion rest her eyes and relax generally.

To see a dancer eat a sandwich and drink a cup of coffee while moving in time with the music is in the ordinary routine.

THE dancers do not converse much either with partners or with other couples. Just now a woman of 40 has stepped upon the floor near a dancing couple, and now she plants a kiss upon the girl's cheek. "That's her mother," someone whispers.

* * *

IN THE early hours of the morning revelers from other places drop in to see the dance. A blotto gentleman in the crowd offers $10 cash "for a sprint," this meaning that for the couple that waltzes best or fox trots best in the eyes of impromptu judges selected from the audience a prize of $10 will be given. The dancers respond and now you see them dancing gracefully for the prize. "Number Six" is awarded the prize, and there is some handclapping.

$10 CASH FOR A SPRINT!

This is one of the most interesting things—this marathon—we ever have seen.

JERRY

Jerry and Saxon Have a Talk; She Tells Him Things About Mary

"DID she care that you were shot to pieces the next day? Her pleasure is more important than your work. And it always will be!"

She went up to him, cheeks stained and black hair flung back. She asked in hushed, violently subdued voice: "You want permanence and stability in your life? Do you think you'll get it with Mary Eunice? She's a spoiled, selfish parasite. She never gets up until 11:30. And the only regularity you'll get from her will be the regularity of late hours and long drinks!

"What does she care for you or your work? What does she understand of it? Intelligence! You know yourself she hasn't one original spark. She cribs from you, from me, from books and passes Shakespeare off as her own to any one ignorant enough to know no better."

"Isn't that a little bitter, Jerry?"

She gave a short, nervous laugh. "For you—yes, frightfully bitter. Why, even her sexy stuff is calculated. Do you think a girl can sit in that favorite pose of hers, legs swung back, skin showing through chiffons, and not know to the dot just how much of her is visible?

"A clumsy fat mama in an abbreviated skirt and with seven kids to worry about may happen to sit like that and not be conscious of it, but not I or Mary Eunice!

"If you think a girl can slither up to a man, lean against him, swish perfumed hair into his very nose, and not be perfectly, wantonly conscious of what she's doing—if you think that, you ought to be put back into the cradle.

"Lord, can you sit through whole evenings with Mary Eunice and not want to roar when her hands subtly—I suppose you call it subtly—remind you that she has a lovely form and sweet curves?

"But how long before all this obvious stuff has you bored to madness? How long before you're screaming to be free of it?"

"Why blame Mary Eunice for the sins and shallowness of the generation?" said he absently, staring in Jerry's burning eyes. "She's far above the crowd."

"Pity the sins and shallowness of the generation all you want . . . do you need to marry them? You want permanence and beauty to your life? Well," said she, flinging about and shoving her sketches into a furious bundle, "leave Mary Pennings alone!"

He reached out and caught her wrists, flinging her about. "Why are you so excited, Jerry? Why are you gone so wild?"

And seeing her face that had been so flushed, so darkly brilliant, now utterly white—seeing her lips trembling. "What is the matter, Jerry? You're in love with me yet? You're mad about me yet!"

She pulled from him sharply. She said with harsh, muffled voice: "You go to the devil, Saxon Rhodes! You go plumb to the devil!"

CHAPTER LXII.

SHE pulled from him, bewildered and shamed by this onslaught of her emotions. She had meant to be so quiet; to marshal the case against Mary Pennings with calm, deadly conviction. But the room glared with her hot, disorderly tirade.

Her hat lay on a bench. She would have to cross in front of him to get it.

And he was standing there, baffled, uncertain, tremendously shaken—staring at a little black curl that went up rakishly from her ear.

He picked up her hat, came over and laid it on the table where she stood with her back turned and her burning eyes glued on the stacks of samples—many colored squares of brocade.

"Thank you," she said frigidly. "I meant to keep you from marrying Mary Pennings. I've succeeded only in puffing your pride. You think I've said these things in viciousness and a mean jealousy."

"You've not flattered me with any jealousy in the last 10 months, Jerry. You've given me nothing but flippance and ridicule. I could almost believe you don't remember. Naturally I'm somewhat staggered. I'm wondering why you care enough to get excited about me now.

"Even if Mary were worthless, as you charge, isn't she good enough for me?"

She regarded his hand as he toyed with the pin on her hat—a beautiful, workmanlike hand. Her anger melted in a surging maternal tenderness—a kind of wild, protective longing.

"No, she isn't good enough for you. It would be tragic enough to fling yourself away on her if you couldn't escape; if you were driven to it by a magnificent, unconquerable emotion.

"But why should you marry her when you can avoid it? Why should a man in this day and age enter so dubious a relation as marriage unless he can't help himself; unless all the odds are in his favor? Or unless he is reasonably certain that he will add to the peace and richness of his life."

"He would think that, of course."

She turned and for a moment regarded him steadfastly, eyes a soft, violet fire against the pale olive of her cheeks.

"How can YOU think that? Even granting her the intelligence, the charm, the tolerance you fancy hers, how can Mary Pennings add to your well being? Any girl you marry has got to be second to your work: or, rather, she's got to be so unselfish, so warmly understanding, that she'll share your joy in the work. It's a terrible thing for a man with a burning ambition to find his wife a rival of his career.

"How long do you think Mary's tolerance would survive your neglect? Disappoint her because of your work and how charmingly will she bear it? Try the experiment if you've any doubt.

"I saw her in action. What do these plans that you're pouring your life into, mean to her? She was furious that you wouldn't chuck them and come down over that week-end.

"Mary's a great little sport when you're playing her game and playing it the way she wants you to. She's a charming, tolerant old dear as long as she's having it all her own way.

"But let the wheel turn against her!" She swung abruptly to her table and with flying fingers began checking the samples. In a low, rapid monotone she narrated the scene in the gambling joint. "It was shameful. Before everyone. She swept her hand over the chips and shouted they were crooked. And she lied and thieved about it. She gave Heinie the laugh and told him to try and get her share of the loss."

"But she paid?" he interrupted, with shocked, hoarse intensity. "Afterwards she paid? In the fever of the game, one might lose control."

The flying fingers poised. She thought that never in her life did she feel such a sickening twinge as this excuse of his sent along her nerves.

"She didn't pay afterwards." She picked up her materials and carried them to a chair in the corner.

And from here she went on more softly, more rapidly: "You think she's heart and soul behind you on those plans? She only wants you to win the prize so that she can go about boasting that she's made you. She gave you your opportunity. She even said she was backing you on this project; she was supplying you the funds."

"What? What's that?"

"She told it to Sylvia one day when she was spiffed."

She was not facing him and didn't see the sudden, agonized shock traveling from his mouth to his eyes: resting there in a still, incredulous stare.

"What, exactly, did she tell Sylvia?"

"That she was furnishing you the money; that it was taking thousands. That she urged you to go into it with her backing. And you finally consented because you were mad for her, and a woman can get a man to do anything when he is mad for her."

A peculiar, instantaneous change swept over him. Like a darkening. "She said this to Sylvia? And did Sylvia spread—"

"No, Sylvia didn't spread the word! She told me. No one else. Because she thought I should warn you, keep you from involving yourself."

"So you thought it was true? You thought I'd taken money from her?"

"There could be reasons why you might have borrowed it. I don't know what I thought or hoped. Except to let you know there might be strings to taking money from a woman."

The blood dropped from his face, leaving it grim and scowling.

"You came to my office to warn me, but you said nothing."

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge Is Startled by Veritzen's Request Into Betraying a Secret

I HAD not known how much I was worrying over Mary's fate until I heard Phillip Veritzen's step outside the library and Katie's awed announcement of "Meester Veritzen." Then I realized that my tense nerves, my feeling of having a Damoclean sword very near my scalp were due to my anxiety as to the result of the confession which my husband's young niece was determined to make to him.

But the great producer looked anything but baneful as Katie ushered him into the library. In fact there was a look on his face which, if I had seen it in almost any other countenance, I would have called embarrassment. But having seen Philip Veritzen in the glamour of traditions concerning his poise and remoteness from ordinary emotions with which his office is filled, it is hard sometimes for me to realize how very like lesser men he is when he is away from what Lillian calls "Phil's private stage setting."

As Katie scuttled away, for she stands in wholesome awe of Broadway's most picturesque figure, he bent over my outstretched hand and kissed it. I have grown used to the salutation which he offers as a matter of course to every woman of his acquaintance, but often his manner makes of the pretty gesture a caress, and as I recognized that fact, not for the first time, I was furious at myself to find that it required a command from my brain to draw my hand away. My instinct, I realized, with self-loathing, was to let my hand lie quiescent beneath his lips.

But I did take my hand away, a trifle more vehemently than if I had not been disciplining my own impulses. Mr. Veritzen ignored by apparent displeasure, however, and I wondered if a certain odd little gleam in his eyes meant that he had comprehended the reason for my petulance.

"It is so good of you to let me come to you with my worries today," he said as he put me into the most comfortable chair in the room and drew one to a place opposite me. "But I find that one of my problems has settled itself automatically. You probably know that Miss Lincoln refused to pose for the sketches your husband wished to make, because she did not wish to have the dog in the sketch."

I nodded, hoping I did not betray that my only knowledge lay in my chance overhearing of Eleanor Lincoln's protest and in my observation of Dicky's anger—that I had been told nothing concerning it.

"Of course, Mr. Graham did not wish to change his plans, so the matter has been dropped for the time. But if it should come up again, may I ask a great boon of you?"

"If it is within my power to grant it."

He made a confident gesture that endowed me with superhuman abilities.

"I want you to use your influence with your husband to refrain from sketching Miss Lincoln."

Before I could catch the words back, I had spoken with impetuous bitterness.

"Use my influence with my husband!" I repeated, then flushed with violent anger at myself that I had thus betrayed what I sedulously had tried to keep secret from this man—that Dicky and I were estranged.

He started and leaning forward put his hand over mine.

"Oh, my dear girl!" he said tenderly. "You must forgive me! I never guessed."

Careless Washing Spoils Children's Hair

Any child can have beautiful hair—healthy and luxuriant. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and luster, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While children's hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, fine young hair and tender scalps cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why thoughtful mothers everywhere now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust and dirt.

It leaves the hair soft and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and luster.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

HENRY CLIVE, one of the foremost of American illustrators, whose portraits of ravishing girls appear on the covers of many of the country's leading magazines.

FEW women realize the tremendous difference that a slight change in the shade of their face powder can make. Few understand how one shade of powder—Rachel, for example—can give even the most ordinary skin a radiant loveliness, a beauty and warmth of color that are astonishing. While on the same skin the Rachel of another powder fails miserably—looks commonplace.

Mr. Henry Clive, noted illustrator and painter of beautiful women, who has proved this in experiments on professional models, writes:

"In my opinion the exquisite and unusual Houbigant shades simulate most naturally the average skin texture and color, and emphasize as nothing else can the latent beauty of the flesh tones."

Houbigant face powders are offered in 6 distinct shades and 12 lovely Houbigant odeurs—75c and $1.50. Also for purse use in the smart new double compact—$2.50. For the perfect powder base, smart women prefer the new Quelques Fleurs Skin Lotion—4 oz., $1.

INVESTMENT BODY BANQUET FRIDAY

Henry R. Hayes of New York, president of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, Alden H. Little of Chicago, executive vice president of the association, and Samuel O. Rice of Chicago, educational director of the association, will be guests of the Western Pennsylvania group at a dinner at the Duquesne Club Friday night. Mr. Hayes and Mr. Little are concluding the annual visit of the president and executive vice president to the 17 groups of the association in the United States and Canada.

The Western Pennsylvania group is one of the largest and most prominent in the association. Its officers are:

George G. Applegate, chairman; J. Howard Arthur, vice president of the First National Bank, Pittsburgh, vice president, and Thomas L. Orr of the Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh, secretary and treasurer.

The executive committee consists of Robert R. Gordon, who is a member of the board of governors of the association; Francis D. Glover of Glover & MacGregor; Merton M. Grubbs of Lee, Higginson & Co.; William S. Charnley of Dillon, Read & Co.; Henry E. Scott of Charles Messenkopf & Co. of Erie; Harrison M. Thomas of Moore, Leonard and Lynch; Prescott L. Lyon of Prescott Lyon & Co.; Norman B. Ward of the Peoples Savings & Trust Company, and Frederick L. Stout of Stout & Company. In addition John W. MacGregor of Glover & MacGregor is an honorary member of the committee.

The Western Pennsylvania group covers the territory from Johnstown to the Ohio state line, and numbers among its membership practically all leading investment houses of Pittsburgh and the Pittsburgh representatives of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago investment houses.

It is expected that 150 partners, branch office managers and salesmen will attend the dinner.

Mr. Rice, the educational director, formerly was editor of Capper's Farmer, Topeka, Kan. The educational department of the association was established in 1922 and has made a phenomenal record.

Do They Laugh at Your "Skinny" Body?

New Combination of Yeast and Iron Puts on Pounds of Weight in 3 Weeks—or pay nothing

"Gained 10 Pounds"

"I can truthfully say that I never received so much benefit from anything in so short a time. Before I began taking IRONIZED YEAST I was 10 pounds underweight, but now I am back to normal again."
Mrs. M. P., Asbury Park, N. J.

Think of it! 5 to 15 pounds of good firm flesh added in 3 to 5 weeks! Your complexion made clear and youthful—all in a single course treatment of nice, pleasant tablets of IRONIZED YEAST!

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured and concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value.

If your skin is pimply, sallow or blotchy, take IRONIZED YEAST today—and see the marvelous change to a clear, fresh, girlish complexion. If your weight is below normal, start IRONIZED YEAST now—and note how pounds are gained, hollows fill out and smooth, delightful curves result. It does not cause gas or bloating and is safe for everybody—containing no harmful drugs. Get IRONIZED YEAST today. Pleasant-tasting tablets in a handy bottle.

Try It on "Money-Back" Offer

Go today to any drug store. Get a full size treatment. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with effects, ask for your money back. It will be refunded immediately. If inconvenient to buy from druggist send $1.00 direct to the IRONIZED YEAST CO., Atlanta, Ga., Desk 319-B.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion, and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having weight increased to normal.—Copyright, I. Y. Co.

The last blemish gone!

Skin eruptions successfully treated from within

SKILLED physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

In building rich, red blood cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

—purely vegetable
S.S.S.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy."—Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut St., Cincinnati, O.

13th BIRTHDAY SALE BEGINS SATURDAY

It's been 13 years since we moved into our present building from across the street. Our 13th Birthday Sale is planned as an outstanding event of Rosenbaum history to celebrate this occasion.

THIS sale represents the earnest endeavor of the Rosenbaum Company to thank Pittsburgh for its high measure of public confidence—to focus in an impressive way our policy of quality merchandise at minimum prices.

We emphasize that this event is not a hurried endeavor to swell the volume of the month's selling. It goes far beyond this. The sale has been planned with the tomorrows in view.

It also expresses the personal appreciation of Rosenbaum executives and co-workers for public good will—the foundation of successful business.

Behind the scenes here—throughout the organization—there is a spirit of keen enthusiasm—inspired by an ambition to make this event one that will be remembered.

Friday Evening Pittsburgh Newspapers will carry full details.

PIRATES MEET REDS HERE TODAY

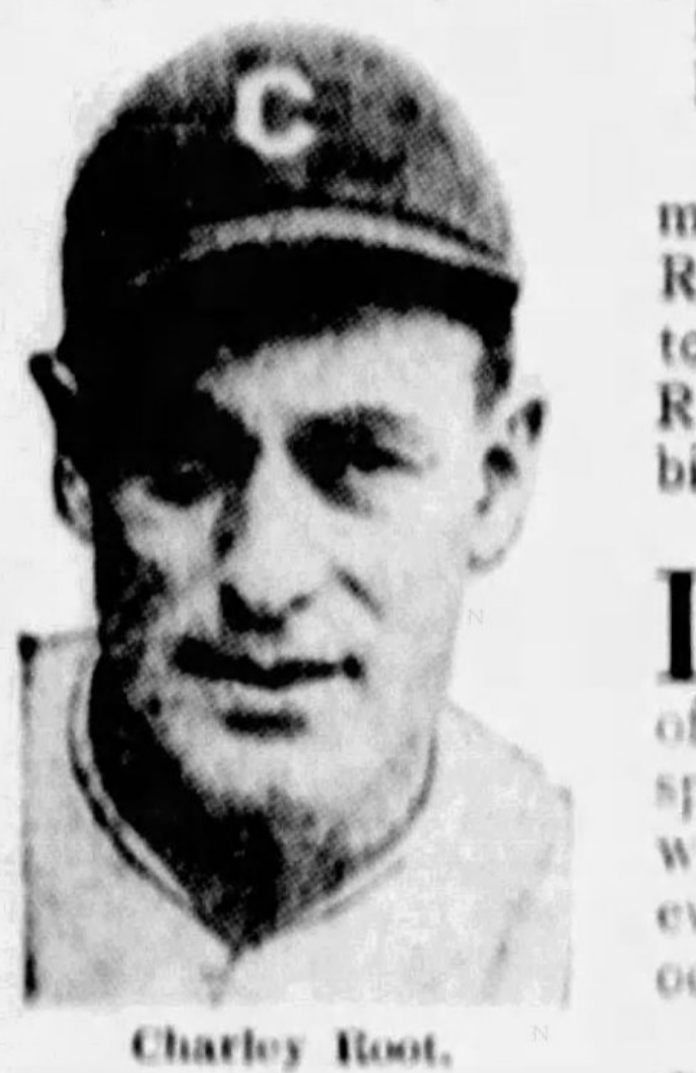
SUN-TELEGRAPH SPORTS

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

Champion Winning Pitcher of 1927 Poorest Starter This Spring—Root Has Not Once Gone Distance—Y. M. H. A. to Give Andy Cohen Big Day Here May 8—McGraw Not To Return to Coaching Lines.

CHARLEY ROOT, star pitcher of the Cubs, whom the Pirates pounded off the premises yesterday in giving the Bruins a 10-to-0 pasting, won more games than any other hurler in the majors last year, but has been the most unsuccessful slabman in either of the big leagues this spring.



Charley Root.

Perce Malone, one of Root's teammates, has lost one game more than Root, being charged with four defeats to Root's three, but in a general sense Root's start has been the sorriest in the big show.

LAST season, Root won 26 games and lost 15, and on the strength of that record he was a holdout this spring. But not only has he failed to win a game to date, but he has not even lasted the distance on a single occasion.

On opening day, he was beaten by Cincinnati and left the game in the seventh inning; on April 18 he went in as a relief pitcher against the Reds and lasted only one-third of an inning, though the defeat was charged to Malone; on April 20 against the Reds he was trimmed by the Reds again and was taken out in the seventh inning, and yesterday the Bucs handed him another beating and shelled him off the knoll in the seventh round.

THE Young Men's Hebrew Association, an institution having a membership of more than 4,500 Jewish men and women, will pay tribute to Andy Cohen, successor to Rogers Hornsby as the second baseman of the New York Giants, when the only Jewish regular in the major leagues makes his first appearance at Forbes Field on Tuesday afternoon, May 8.

Officials of the Y. M. H. A. have made arrangements to purchase a block of reserved seats behind the Giants' dugout for the New York club's first appearance here, and will present the young Jewish ball player with a suitabl gift before the start of the game.

BESIDES attending the Pirate-Giant opener in a body, the members of the Y. M. H. A. have arranged to hold an all-star amateur boxing show in their spacious gymanisum on Bellefield avenue, at which the members of the Pirates and Giants will be guests of honor. The boxing program will be staged the evening of the day of the opening game and an effort is being made by the committee to obtain the services of the local amateur boxing champions for the show.

Andy Cohen.

Abe Neaman, who several years ago was one of the best Jewish athletes turned out in this vicinity, has been named chairman of the committee. Assisting him in handling the arrangements are Charles Sable, Morris Linton, Ben H. Giffen and Arthur W. Scher.

THE Pirates have not done so badly in two of their three road trips in the West. They dropped both games played in St. Louis, but took two out of three in Cincinnati and broke even in four contests in Chicago, not to mention the fact that one of the Windy City defeats is under protest.

Give 'em a little time and they soon will be up where they belong. The stay at home starting today, ought to help.

The pitching was of real championship quality in three of the four Chicago games, Kremer and Grimes pitching shutouts and Miljus allowing only three runs, one of which was the protested tally scored by Stephenson Sunday.

IT HAS been said that as a rule Burleigh Grimes is not at his best in the early spring, but the home fans could hardly ask for better hurling than he has delivered thus far. Incidentally, Grimes followed the lead of the other Pirate chuckers in putting the brakes on Hazen Cuyler's hitting. Ki did not get a hit in the entire series of four games, though he was at bat 15 times. Adams, on the other hand, batted safely in every game of the string. Cuyler's batting average for the season has dropped to .179.

WHEN the four-game series with the Giants here gets under way on May 8, Pittsburgh fans who, on the strength of reports that John McGraw is wearing a uniform this spring, have anticipated seeing the Giant leader on the coaching lines, are going to be disappointed.

John McGraw.

McGraw, who has been absent from the coaching lines for seven years, will not return to them, he declares, though he will continue to wear a uniform after directing his club in civilian clothes for three seasons.

The Giant leader bears out what Fred Clarke used to say after he quit the playing ranks to become a bench manager—that a skipper could see more from the dugout and direct his team better from there than from any other place on the field.

"I have tried both ends of managing and I find that the bench is the only place from which to direct a team," says McGraw. "It keeps you in touch with your batters and your pitchers and catchers. A manager misses too many important things when he works on the coaching lines."

YESTERDAY'S 17-inning tussle in which the Reds nosed out the Cardinals, was only the second extra-inning game of the year in the National League. Three have been played in the American. The longest prior to yesterday was 11 innings.

IN FIVE of the last seven games played by the Cubs, one side or the other has failed to score. The Bruins have figured in six shut-out games all told so far and lead both leagues in that respect. They have broken even in the whitewashing.

BEAT CUBS IN LAST GAME

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

THE Pirates are back in town after an effective invasion of Chicago, home of the Cubs, White Sox and many good and bad people. Reaching Pittsburgh about the same time as our boys, were the famous Reds of Cincinnati, who this afternoon make their season's debut in the local orchard.

Getting a 50-50 break with the Bruins on their home lot acted as a tonic to the troubled Buccaneers, who early in the springtime were badly beated by the Bears. The manner in which the Freebooters won their two games in Chicago carried added zip, the Buchwackers gaining two shutout successes as a result of cleverly pitched games. Remy Kremer and Burleigh Grimes each shut the door in the faces of the Cubs.

Grimes turned the trick in the finale yesterday, the Pirates making a walkaway of the closing encounter. The Bucs were in such good form they rolled up enough tallies to reach double figures, the score being 10 to 0. The loose play of Shortstop English dovetailed into the Pirate scheme.

KEARNS PLANS APPEAL; TO PRESS NEW SUIT

NEW YORK, April 26.—(INS.)—Victorious in the $500,000 suit brought by Jack Kearns, his former manager, Jack Dempsey was the center of an impromptu celebration held outside the Federal courthouse on Park Row early today. The one-time king of the heavyweights, grinning from ear to ear, was surrounded and cheered to the echo by a milling mob of admirers who were waiting outside the building to learn the verdict.

"I never felt so relieved in my life," the Manassa Mauler said happily. "That certainly is a load off my mind."

Dempsey has been harried for years by Kearns' lawsuits. He had to take all kinds of precautions to prevent "Perfumery Jack" from attaching his purse for the Tunney fight in Philadelphia. Kearns had attached an expensive automobile owned by Dempsey and had worried Dempsey in countless other matters.

KEARNS' CLAIM VOID

The jury deliberated the case for about three and one-half hours. Kearns originally sued Dempsey for $701,026.60 which he alleged Jack owed him under contract as his share of the fighter's earnings. An item of $166,666 was chipped off the suit Monday by Judge Knox.

The jury found that Kearns' claims were voided by the settlement which he made with Dempsey in Los Angeles in 1925. They decided that the Saratoga contract which the pair agreed to in 1923, the subject of the dispute, was legal, but was abrogated by the later agreement.

Two questions were submitted to the jury by Judge John C. Knox. The first

PAYNE LOSES DERBY LEAD

SULLIVAN, Mo., April 26.—(AP.)—C. C. (Cross Country) Pyle's New York bound caravan pushed out of here over the concrete highway to Hillside View, 43 miles eastward, today.

Hillside View, the runners' and walker's fifty-fourth control will be an overnight stop before proceeding an additional 33 miles to East St. Louis, Ill., after swinging through St. Louis Friday.

Peter Gavuzzi, England, had a lead of 32 minutes and 41 seconds over Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., when they started this morning after finishing second to Phillip Granville, Canada, on the 42.9-mile lap from Rolla Wednesday.

Granville's time for the day was 5:45:29 Gavuzzi's 6:00:13 and Payne's 7:09:04.

Earl Dilks, New Castle Pa., finished yesterday's lap in 8:10:30 for an elapsed total of 492:34:33.

Bany, Welch Ready For Go Tonight

TWO 10-round bouts will feature the boxing card at McKeesport tonight. Teddy Welch and Jack Bany, Tube City lightweight rivals, will appear in the main go and Charley Brodd and Dick Gibbons, heavyweights of McKeesport, will box the first feature event.

Bobby Burns of Swissvale makes his professional debut against Eddie Myers of McKeesport in the main preliminary, and Tommy Murphy of Canonsburg and Young Angelo of Swissvale will open the show.

Frank Monroe, Fair Haven coal miner, boxes Jack Herman of Cleveland in the 10-round main bout of a show at Alliance, O., tonight Jackie Rodgers, Negro flyweight of the North Side, boxes Midget Doyle in the windup at Johnstown, with Ike MacFowler meeting Ray Carroll in the semi-final. Tommy Ward of the North Side boxing Tommy Nagle of McKeesport in the second bout and Hugh Fetzer, local amateur, opposing Henry Guella of Johnstown in the opener.

Sandy Seifert and K. O. Christner, the knockout sensation of Akron, are due to travel 10 rounds before a house that has been sold out for a week, at Akron tonight.

CHILLY SAUCE

By CHILLY DOYLE

HAS it occurred to you that the three flag contenders of the west, the Red group of Cincinnati would make it four, are going through what might be termed a significant phase of the National League race? The Pirates, Cardinals and Cubs fighting hard in sectional competition are facing a test that may not be any stiffer when August arrives.

THE Freebooters, unfortunately, have fared badly in the early, but strenuous games. Our boys have lost seven of their first 11 games, while the Cardinals' and Cubs' efforts have been more productive.

Perhaps it is an injustice to Jack Hendricks and his fine bunch of boys to leave them out of the flag reckoning. The fact that Pete Donohue, Carl Mays and others are not yet in their stride has militated against the Rhinelanders, who, if they are not of pennant stuff this year, are a snappy team which may land in one of the money positions. They are a nice lot, those Reds, and they're going to make plenty of annoyance when Luque, Donohue, Rixey, Lucas and Mays are ready to take their turns.

GRIMES is the only Pirate pitcher to boast of winning two games this year. Burleigh has lost the same number. Ray Kremer and Joe Dawson own the other two triumphs. John Miljus has pitched some clever ball, but like Charlie Root he has not started his victory string to date.

GRIMES showed some stuff right at the start. English nicked him for a double, but Burleigh made Maguire miss a third strike. He then threw out Cuyler. It was no slab skill that retired Hack Wilson.

PAUL WANER almost hung himself on the right field fence as he speared Hack's lusty clout. Wilson already has hit three circuit clouts and the fences here are longer than they used to be.

A FEW years ago the Chicago officials moved back the ramparts because the Cubs were made up largely of short hitters, thus making the fences fine targets for the longer batters of opposing clubs. And now that the Bears have Wilson, Stephenson, Cuyler, Webb, Grimm, Hartnett and other sluggers they must send the ball quite a distance to ring a bullseye.

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO BOY PLAYING BALL

BELLAIRE, O., April 26.—(AP.)—While running to get under a fly ball in an inter-class mushball game here yesterday, Warren Schane Parker, 16, a high school student, suffered a heart attack. He was rushed to the office of a physician, who said examination revealed the boy had died instantly.

COLTS LOSE RAMBO

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 26.—Warren Rambo, veteran pitcher of the Cumberland Colts, the only one on the reserve list who has failed to report, has requested President McGuire of the local team in the Middle Atlantic League to place him on the retired list for the 1928 season. Rambo's home is in Thorofare, N. J., and he intends to pitch for an amateur nine near Philadelphia.

BOUT FOR M'TIGUE

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—(INS.)—Mike McTigue, former light-heavyweight champion, will meet Cowboy Jack Willis, of Texas, in a 10-round bout here May 8. Matchmaker Wad Wadhams announced today.

Four Classes Share Cash

OUT-OF-TOWN bowlers, both men and women, vied with Pittsburghers in the sharing of the $2,517.20 prize total divided among the leaders in the four classes of the American Duckpin Congress tournament which closed last Saturday. The tourney was the first to be staged by the Congress, and the prize list was announced today by Secretary George B. Wessa.

The tournament attracted a record entry list and unusual attention, in that it was the first to employ the class system of awarding prizes, similar to the method used in trapshooting tournaments for many years. By this system, the bowlers are divided into classes in order of their finish.

The Murphy's five-men combination of Pittsburgh won high money in the team competition, leading in Class A with a total of 2618 pins and taking down $100 in prize money.

In the men's doubles, C. J. Thomas and R. J. Crawford, a Pittsburgh pair, won $50 with a high total of 1100. W. Smith and H. Teeter of Donora were high in Class B and won $35.

In the singles, J. Furman of Pittsburgh won the $35 first prize. A Homestead bowler, A. Renquist won in Class B getting $20.83.

E. Vierheller of Pittsburgh won the all-events prize of $25 for the first class with a 1711 total.

The Climax Girls of Pittsburgh won $40 in the women's team event with a high total of 1907. L. Lehner was the winners of the women's all-events prize of $5 with a total of 1302 pins.

KING'S TEAM LOSES

MADRID, Spain, April 26.—(AP.)—A Spanish polo team led by King Alfonso met defeat in a close match with an American quartet now visiting this country. The score was seven goals to six.

GERBER TRADED TO RED SOX

BOSTON, April 26.—(INS.)—"I expect that Walter Gerber will materially strengthen the Red Sox infield. His experience should help to aid develop Buddy Myer on third and Bill Regan on second base, two youngsters who have been playing good baseball for the Red Sox."

That is President Bob Quinn's opinion of the Boston Red Sox trade that brought Walter Gerber, veteran shortstop, from St. Louis to Boston in exchange for Harold Wiltse, chunky blond-haired left-hander.

Wiltse, a youngster with great prospects in the American League, will materially strengthen the Browns. He will have the benefit of working under Dan Howley, manager of St. Louis and a great New England favorite. Howley comes from Weymouth, Mass.

SARAZEN FEARS FOR WALTER

By GENE SARAZEN,
Former Open Golf Champion.

LONDON, April 26.—I am afraid that Walter Hagen, although he is the outstanding professional golfer of the United States, is likely to be defeated by Archie Compston, the hard-hitting British pro, in their match at Moor Park tomorrow.

It is asking too much of Hagen that he should be at his best for the match, since he is practicing today for the first time since he made a regular "Lindbergh" hop from California to New York and thence to London, without getting in a day's practice. He had hoped, as we all did, to get in some practice aboard the Aquitania, on which we crossed, but the weather proved too rough.

Before leaving New York, Hagen suggested that he would like to have his match with Compston postponed a day or two, but when he arrived here he found that the promoters were insistent that it take place on schedule, since it had been widely advertised and has aroused great interest here. Like a sportsman, Walter agreed to do his best.

HAGEN SURPRISES IN DRILL

LONDON, April 26.—(AP.)—Walter Hagen took full advantage of his one day's chance to practice for his 72-hole golf match with Archie Compson tomorrow and Saturday and was on the Moor Park course early.

He showed at the outset that he was able to hit a golf ball accurately in spite of his long absence from the game. To the several hundred members of a gallery following his casual practice he appeared to be on his game.

of these, "Was there a contract entered into between plaintiff and defendant on August 3, 1923?" was answered in the affirmative. That standing alone would have entitled Kearns to an accounting. The second question, "If there was a contract, was a settlement effected in Los Angeles in July, 1925?" was also answered in the affirmative. This means that whatever Kearns' claims against Dempsey might have been, they have been satisfied in full.

Kearns took his technical knockout philosophically.

"They said the contract was settled and the jury believed them, but it wasn't," he said.

Kearns announced he would appeal. He said also that a similar suit he has pending would be pressed in a Philadelphia court.

The trial lasted four days. Dempsey's chief diversions during the tedious legal proceedings were chewing gum and gossiping with Mickey Walker, middleweight champion.

It is estimated that the long legal fight, which extended over a period of nearly two years, has cost Dempsey close to $100,000 and Kearns at least half that sum.

Dempsey's plans for the immediate future are indefinite except that he will shortly begin a limited vaudeville engagement in the East, playing a sketch written for him by Willard Mack.

Jack reiterated this morning that he positively will not fight again.

BOXING NOTES

an amateur boxing show in German Masonic Hall, North Side, tonight.

Joe Dundee, welterweight champion, boxes Billy Drako for about the third time at St. Louis tonight. Jack Hood and Alf Mancini meet for the welterweight championship of Europe in London.

Leo Clements, of Swissvale, will meet Nick Gavin, of Cleveland, in one of the bouts of a mixed amateur and professional boxing card at Cleveland tonight for the benefit of the sandlot baseball teams of the city. Five amateur bouts will make up the preliminaries and there will be a 12-round windup between Andre Routis and Ignacio Fernandez and a six-round semi-final between Max Strub, of Erie, and Jimmy Trannett, of Cleveland.

Lucas Beats Cards In 17 Innings

CINCINNATI, April 26.—Red Lucas stood in the way of the St. Louis Cardinals and a victory here yesterday for 17 innings, his mates finally scoring the run needed to bring Cincinnati a 5-to-4 win in the longest game of the present National League season.

Lucas outpitched a trio of Card hurlers and turned in a sparkling performance throughout. Pinch-hitter Val Picinich's double with Dressen on second in the seventeenth inning ended the game.

the fourth game in a row. Members of the Chicago team say Cuyler has not been able to do himself justice at the plate since he injured his hand—in any event, he was the weakest part of the Bears' offensive in the four battles. Cuyler hit the ball hard on two occasions yesterday, but Pirate fielders flagged all his drives and kept him hitless. Wright's bare hand stop in the third game spoiled the only real chance he had for a blow.

HILL TO PITCH

Manager Bush stated this morning that Carmen Hill would face the Reds in the first game of the series at Forbes Field. The Reds may send Adolf Luque to the mound.

Bush also stated he would keep Adam Comorosky in the Pirate lineup for the present. There is nothing wrong with Barnhart, but the pilot apparently thinks that Comorosky's presence in the lineup will add to the general effectiveness of the team. When the weather warms up Bush may return Pooch to the order.

Hill has not worked for more than a week. He was on the mound in the home opener, but suffered a damaged knee and had to retire. The injury seems to have healed well.

Grimes held the Cubs to six scattered hits as the Pirates romped away with the laurels in the last game at Wrigley Field. Burleigh saw Paul Waner hammer over two runs in the first round and he went out with determination to hold the home boys in check. He made the ball do a lot of things as he twirled the nine runless frames.

Charlie Root, a topnotcher of last summer who is having a hard time breaking in this year, was one of the main victims of Grimes and his Pirate mates. Root was off form and to mince matters for him, English had a terrible day in the field. Hack Wilson made a wide throw that further jammed the Bruins.

Home Run Hack, by the way, came within a foot or two of smashing the ball into the right field seats in the first frame. Paul Waner made it tough for Hack by overtaking the liner as he made a daring leap near the steel pickets. Paul came back to the ground with the rocket in his hands.

In the midst of the seventh inning scoring, Root was lifted in favor of Phil Weinert, southpaw. Recruit Welch pitched the final round against the Pirates and was given poor support.

SOCCER CHIEFS SCORED

CHICAGO, April 26.—(AP.)—Dissatisfied with the selection of the United States Olympics soccer team and the personnel of the officers who will accompany it, the Illinois State Football Association has withdrawn further support for the Olympics fund being raised by the United States Football Association.

Officials of the Illinois organization scored the "high-handed tactics" of Eastern heads of the national association, and charged those officials had been unfair in the selection of members of the Olympics team. Graham Gardiner, star Chicago fullback, was ignored in the selections, the Illinois association pointed out. Wilfred Cummings of Chicago also should have been picked as an official, they said.

Walter Hagen DELUXE

WALTER HAGEN Says "I wish I could give you my stance, my pivot, and my follow through. Alas, that's impossible. But I'll tell you what! I can give you a duplicate set of my clubs—the same as those that have helped me win championships. I designed these clubs and there is a set here for you—all matched and registered. I'm sure they'll bring greater enjoyment to your game."

Local Stars Eliminated

BOSTON, April 26.—(INS.)—National amateur boxing champions and representatives of Uncle Sam in the Olympic boxing championships in Amsterdam are:

112 pounds—Hymen Miller, Los Angeles.

118 pounds—Johnn Daley, Waltham, Mass.

126 pounds—Harry Devine, Worcester, Mass.

135 pounds—Steve Holaiko, Buffalo.

147 pounds—Tommy Lown, New York.

160 pounds—Harry H. Henderson, Annapolis, Md.

175 pounds—Leon Lucas, Philadelphia.

Heavyweight — George Hoffman, New Pork.

Eight alternates will be chosen this afternoon to make up the complete Olympic team.

The team will be coached by Spike Webb, of Annapolis, with Al Lacy, of Chelsea, Mass., as trainer.

BATTLE 32 HOURS

The national champions and Olympic contenders were selected after 32 hours of battling before record crowds in the Boston Arena. The surprise of the tournament was that the East, with the exception of Miller of Los Angeles triumphed over the West. It had been expected that the Pacific Coast teams would clean up at least three classes. Here is how they finished in the final round:

112-pound class—Hyman Miller, Los Angeles, defeated Gene Bianco, Boston, 3 rounds.

160-pound class—Larry H. Henderson, Annapolis, defeated Stillman, St. Louis.

175-pound class — Leon Lucas, Philadelphia, knocked out Dave Maier, Milwaukee, 1 round.

CHAMPS BEAT LOCALS

Pittsburgh's three survivors up to yesterday were eliminated, two of them in the quarter-finals and the other one in the semi-finals.

Buck McTiernan, welterweight, who paid his own expenses to the tournament, was the last of the Western Pennsylvanians to go out. He lost to Tommy Lown of New York the ultimate winner. Lown also won the welterweight title last year and has been a finalist four consecutive years. Joe Oraint, Pittsburgh bantamweight lost to Chester Karsten of Grand Rapids, and Andy Andrucci, lightweight, bowed to Steke Holaiko of Buffalo, the new champion in this class.

Aside from Lown, George Hoffman, New York heavyweight, was the only champion of last year to defend his title.

Paulino Rates Godfrey Best Of Heavies

PARIS, April 26.—(AP.)—Here is the ranking of "American pugilists" by Senaor Paulino Czcudun, of Spain.

"Godfrey, the Negro, the toughest one of all. He is a giant, a super athlete, quick and hits hard.

"Risko comes next. He is a good battler, hard and fast.

"Sharkey is the best boxer of them all, but he hits like a featherweight.

BRIDGEVILLE ENTRY BLANKS SENT OUT

Eager to obtain the signatures of the leading automobile drivers in this section of the country, Henry Caslow, director and manager of the Bridgeville Speedway, has sent out entries for the opening races of the season, scheduled for Wednesday, May 30 (Decoration Day.)

Three races, two of 25 miles each and a third of 50 miles, will feature the Decoration Day program at Bridgeville this year. Judging by the amount of interest shown by racing enthusiasts since the announcement was first made a record-breaking entry list will be compiled for the inaugural.

Officials of the Keystone Recreation Company, which controls the Bridgeville Speedway, are sparing no expense in making the necessary improvements at the famous half-mile board track.

SANDLOT BASEBALL

by TOM BIRKS

THE first big local sandlot game of the season will be staged at Charleroi this afternoon, Cum Posey's Homestead Grays meeting the Charleroi club of the Middle Atlantic League.

Added interest attending the game will be the result of a contest to get a new nickname for the river club. The non de plume of "Babes" has ceased to hit the official eye and from today's game on, the team will be more appropriately named.

Manager Phillips of the Middle Atlantic outfit feels that the best club that ever represented the city will adorn the bench before the start of today's game, and knocking off the crack Pittsburgh Negro club would be a good sign for the season's success. Competition is sure to be keen in the Middle Atlantic circuit this season, and all of the players will have to hustle to be classed as a regular.

Today's game will start at 3 p. m. and with the all-around star Beckwith, lined up with the Grays, it is expected that a large crowd will be on hand for the opener. It is being classed as a practice session, but seeing that this is the first of a six-game series with clubs of the same loop it is only natural that Posey wants to put this game in the bag.

The Jimmy Smith club is staging a number of practice sessions this week-end and Manager Bobby Burke expects to have the boys in fine shape for the opener. The new club, which cavorted on the diamond as Cathedral Chapel last year has received four requests to be the opening attraction in the district, but Burke expects to help Universal pry off the lid for the initial game.

One of the best smokers of the pre-baseball season was held by the Reineker Club Tuesday night in the St. Richard's auditorium. It was typically a sandlot baseball night, sandlotters like Bimmy Steele, Wally Smith, Hi Myers and Jock Collette being introduced.

Coach Elmer Smith of the St. John's Lyceum nine wants all players to report at the grounds this evening for a practice session. The biggest game ever before the Strippers will face Bill McGrady's charges Sunday, when the Greensburg Club of the Pennsylvania League visits the Liberty Avenue grounds.

Here's a chance for managers looking for a catcher. A catcher writes in to state that he desires a position with a light, first-class club in the district. Call West View 1550-R, after 6 p. m., and ask for Fred.

Pittsburgh is to have three Waners playing baseball here this year. Paul and Lloyd, the famous major league combination, will be working for the fans' edification at Forbes Field, while Ralph Waner, brother of the popular pair, will be seen on local sandlots with a semi-professional outfit.

Ralph has played a lot of baseball out in Oklahoma. For eight years he was coach and star shortstop for the Ada club of that state, winning the state championship four times in that period. Ralph had much to do with the early training of Paul and Lloyd.

Waner, also quite a golf enthusiast, has been dickering with several teams in the district for a contract for the season. While business keeps him pretty well tied down, Ralph expects to do a lot of playing before the summer is over.

Manager Jock rounded up a fellow named Jones for the announcing, and his line of humor should be put in action at the Reineker home games. Mr. Reineker, sponsor of the club and Jim Malone, who seems to be the back of everything that starts up on Herron Hill, attended the affair.

Detective Hired To Get Hagen Out of Bed

LONDON, April 26.—(AP.)—The manager of Walter Hagen has hired the biggest private detective he could find in London, 6 feet 4 inches tall, to take charge of the American golfer and see that he gets to the Moor Park golf course promptly on time tomorrow and Saturday for his special match with Archie Compston.

This was done to avoid the possibility of Hagen's turning up late as he did two years ago on the last day of his match with Abe Mitchell. The detective will go on duty at 8 o'clock in the morning and his first job will be to get Hagen out of bed.

HOMESTEAD PIN SCORING HIGH

The appearance of new leaders in the men's doubles featured last night's rolling in the annual Merry Widow duckpin tournament of the Capital alleys, Homestead, in progress this week.

Piling up the impressive total of 1,075, Gross and Granetz assumed the two-men team pace-setting role, and each turned in a game of better than 210. Previous leaders in the men's singles and women's events were not displaced. Yesterday's scores follow:

Men's singles—Gross, 470; Harper, 475; Hartnett, 460; Granetz, 462; Everett, 418; Hartley, 436; Morry, 364; Frank, 360; Thompson, 511; Rosgrove, 423; Ackerman, 398; Rushe, 352; Everett, 403; Hartley, 453.

Men's doubles—Lesko and Rosgrove, 1044; Ackerman and Rushe, 776; Hartnett and Gross, 1031; Granetz and Harper, 1029; Gross and Harper, 1033; Hartnett and Granetz, 933; Todd and Hoover, 720; Hartnett and Harper, 994; Gross and Granetz, 1075.

Women's singles — Bayles, 377; Peterson, 344.

ENDURANCE COUNTS MOST OF ALL

30 MILE an hour lubrication lags way behind in a 60 mile an hour motor. Most oils that were designed to lubricate the heavier automobiles of yesterday will break-down and burn up in the increased heat and friction of the high-speed motors of today. In the modern race with friction the oil with ENDURANCE is the only oil that wins.

Users of Waverly All-Pennsylvania will tell you that you cannot beat it for "long wearing" lubrication. Waverly will add years to the life of your car. It will help your motor to operate with the efficiency for which it was designed. You'll use Waverly eventually. Why not start today and save yourself a lot of trouble and repair bills.

SENATE TOLD MEN ASKED NEW RATE

By MAX HENRICI,
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26.—The charge that the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal Company abrogated the Jacksonville wage contract with the United Mine Workers was denied by Walter L. Robison, vice president of the company, in a statement to the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today in its investigation of the coal strike. Robison admitted that his company signed an agreement to pay the Jacksonville scale until March 31, 1927, and that before the expiration of the pact it paid its miners lower wages, but justified its course on the ground that certain of the employes sought a readjustment rather than have the mines remain idle.

Conditions in the Pittsburgh district, which will be the subject of consideration at hearings to be held next week, were brought prominently to the fore by Robison's testimony; for he recited at length the story of the developments of the last few years at his company's Osborne, Enterprise, Manifold and Charleroi mines, all of which are within 40 miles of Pittsburgh.

TELLS OF CRIMES

His testimony also had to do with the strike as it has affected the company's eight mines in Ohio and its West Virginia operations. Scores of cases of arson, murder, bombings and assaults, which he said followed the issuance of an injunction restraining the company's striking miners from certain activities, were presented by Robison to the committee.

The witness immediately preceding him, H. E. Willard, secretary of the United States Coal Company, showed the committee cartridges which he said the manufacturer guaranteed to kill an elephant at half a mile, and which he charged had been fired by the strikers or strike sympathizers into the homes of the company's mine foremen.

In regard to the company's Pittsburgh district mines Robison said:

"It has been alleged that the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal Company abrogated the so-called Jacksonville agreement at its mines in Western Pennsylvania. This we specifically deny.

"Following the making of the so-called Jacksonville agreement in February 1924 this company, because its Pennsylvania mines were not represented in the Jacksonville conference, executed under date of March 25, 1924, a memorandum with the Pittsburgh district officials of the United Mine Workers of America, reaffirming the wage scale then in existence and extending the same until March 31, 1927. Having so extended the existing scale of wages we made every effort to operate our mines in Western Pennsylvania and to pay the wages provided for in the wage scale.

MINERS ASKED CHANGE

"The Osborne mines operated just 52 days under the Jacksonville arrangement, closing down finally July 11, 1924. We could not sell our coal in competition with coal produced in neighboring mines, the operators of which were paying their labor a lower scale of wages.

"Early in April, 1926, a large number of our former employes still living in our houses, sought to have us resume operations at the Osborne mines upon a wage scale which would be approximately the same as that being paid at nearby and competing mines. These were all men who had previously worked for us under the Jacksonville scale and were men for whom the Jacksonville scale had been made.

"On May 3, 1926, operations at Osborne mines was resumed and an invitation was issued to all our old men to return to their old jobs, and many of them did return and are today at work in these mines.

"Now, since this mine resumed operation in May, 1926, with many of our old employes back on the job, we have experienced no very serious trouble. There has been constant picketing by members of the United Mine Workers of America, who have endeavored to dissuade the employes from working, barracks were built by the United Mine Workers on an adjoining property, but only one of our former employes is occupying these barracks.

"Let us see now just what action the United Mine Workers of America took when the former employes at Osborne mines agreed with the company on a modification of the Jacksonville agreement which permitted them to return to work on a basis satisfactory to them.

IGNORED LETTER

"On or about May 1 preparations began to be made to resume work at the Osborne mines. On May 4 William Hargest, secretary-treasurer of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, with offices at Pittsburgh, addressed a special delivery letter to our Mr. Patterson in our Pittsburgh office.

"We concluded that since the men at our Osborne mines had themselves sought and completed with us a modification of the Jacksonville scale, that the letter from Mr. Hargest was probably uncalled for and required no answer. Therefore, no answer was made.

"On May 10 some 500 men employed at our Charleroi mine walked out on strike following an order issued by P. T. Fagan, president of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, and on the following day, May 11, the more than 250 men employed in the Enterprise mine of our company walked out on strike following a similar order issued by Mr. Fagan.

"This concluded our efforts to operate Enterprise and Charleroi mines under the Jacksonville agreement. It should be noted that our Manifold Nos. 1 and 2 mines never had operated under the Jacksonville agreement and were at this time idle.

"With the exception of Charleroi mine all of our other five properties are now in daily operation and producing more than 5,000 tons of coal daily, and giving employment to 1,100 or 1,200 men to whom we paid in 1927 in pay rolls $1,965,901, or just short of $2,000,000. These men are happy and contented in their employment and are making good wages.

FANHOUSE BOMBED

"A few days after Enterprise mine was reopened the Enterprise fanhouse, containing the fan and intricate switchboard equipment, was wrecked by a blast of dynamite set off about 2 o'clock in the morning, under cover of darkness.

"When Manifold mine was reopened, a large double dwelling house was burned to the ground, and October 3, 1927, shortly after midnight, a package containing 33 sticks of dynamite and high explosive was discovered on the bedplate of a large motor generator set and immediately in front of the switchboard in the manifold sub-station. Attached to the high explosive was a fuse about 4 feet in length, of which about two feet had been burned off. A defect in the fuse saved the power plant, valued at perhaps $25,000, and possibly saved the life of the attendant who was nearby, and this incident certainly serves to emphasize the need of providing adequate protection both for life and property from the acts of those who have no regard for the rights of either and who will stop at the commission of no dastardly crime to accomplish the purpose of their conspiracy to stop the operation of these mines."

LOCAL FLIERS FORCED DOWN

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., April 26.—Lieut. Frank J. Ambrose, Jr., and George J. Outland, both of Pittsburgh, escaped unhurt when the former was forced into an emergency landing field near here yesterday.

The plane was flying at an altitude of 2,000 feet when a wingrod broke. Ambrose managed to land the plane despite the fact of weakened wings which threatened to collapse in the hurried descent.

WALSH TO TELL CONGRESS OF "DOPES"

Police Superintendent Peter P. Walsh has been invited to appear before Congress tomorrow to speak in behalf of the narcotic farms bill. Congressman Stephen G. Porter, sponsor of the bill, extended the local police official the invitation. The bill comes before the House tomorrow.

Supt. Walsh strongly favors the passage of the act.

"It will do a great deal of good for the poor unfortunates who are addicted to narcotics," the superintendent said. "If I can be of any assistance in having the bill become a law I will give Congress all of the information I have on addicts."

The bill proposes to establish two farms, one for women addicts and the other for men. Addicts who desire to take the cure may do so free of cost to them. Supt. Walsh will leave for Washington tonight.

MAT TITLE AT STAKE

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—(INS.)—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, will defend his title against Nick Lutze, Chicago grappler, here on May 2. The match has been sanctioned by the California Athletic Commission.

COAL SEMINAR FAILS TO ACT

"The responsibility of the 'Save the Union' committee in bringing about a split within the ranks of the United Mine Workers of America at this time, when the miners are fighting with their backs to the wall, is a great one," declared Prof. E. Colston Warne, of the University of Pittsburgh, in summing up facts presented before the ministerial coal seminar at its final session this morning.

Three members of the National "Save the Union" committee heard Prof. Warne's address. Those present included Pat Toohey and Anthony Minerich. They offered no comment.

The seminar came to a close shortly after noon at the conclusion of Prof. Warne's address. No action was taken by the body and no suggestions offered. The scheduled discussion of the coal strike situation which was to have followed Prof. Warne's address failed to materialize, the Rev. Dr. Hubert C. Herring, of the department of social relations, Congregational Educational Society, explaining the seminar was held to acquaint those participating with facts rather than to offer suggestions.

PORTER'S DRUG BILL HEARING BEGUN

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS,
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Testifying before the House Judiciary Committee today during hearings on the Porter narcotic farm bill, Col. L. G. Nutt, chief of the federal narcotic forces, declared that more than 100,000 drug addicts are roaming the streets of American cities in defiance of the laws of society.

Hearings on the bill, offered by Representative Stephen G. Porter, of Pittsburgh, and providing for the creation of two great federal narcotic farms for the separate treatment of drug addicts, were opened this morning. After listening to a half dozen witnesses indorse the measure in the strongest terms, the committee ordered a recess until Friday morning.

Col. Nutt told the committee that the proposed narcotic institutions are badly needed as a method of solving the drug addiction problem. Under the present system, he said, patients suffering from this disease are rarely ever completely cured before being released on society again, only to succumb to the craving which ultimately makes of them human derelicts and often dangerous criminals.

The Preference of Radio Experts

RCA Radiotrons are recognized by experts as the standard of performance in broadcast reception. Manufacturers of quality receiving sets specify them for preliminary testing, for initial equipment and for replacement. For better results insist that your set be equipped throughout with genuine RCA Radiotrons.

Big Business Warned for Taking On Only the Young

By B. C. FORBES

HERE is something calculated to make big business think, also workers, especially young workers.

It is, in my judgment, the most thought-stimulating communication sent this column this year.

IT COMES from a Pennsylvania woman, M. H. Perkins. Instead of further comment today, let her speak for herself—she is extremely well qualified to, as you will find:

"This is my first offense in writing to a newspaper.

"Here is a problem from the side of the unmoneyed. Just what part of the brains of big business is responsible for this seemingly senseless 40-year-old deadline that hits the men perhaps more tragically than us women?

"I have known two men, a marine draftsman and a credit man, who could not get work because they were 40 or perhaps 42. Their loss of employment was brought about solely by some of these mergers so popular nowadays.

"WHAT is the inevitable answer to all this?

"I find myself unconsciously developing the worst order of sales resistance to every salesman I meet. I am almost entirely committed to the policy of buying 'recondition' articles, not because they are cheaper, but because someone other than the big business concerns profits by their sale.

"When I was under 30 I never questioned a general utility bill—gas, electric, water, etc. Now I vote for every man I can find who is out to fight the big corporations for cheaper rates, or government ownership.

"The other day I interviewed a branch of one of our biggest U. S. corporations. I answered their every requirement as to ability, experience, character, belief, nationality, education, health, but—I was over 35—their particular deadline. Now, when I was under 25, while I held beliefs which might be termed a bit 'radical,' I held them to myself. Nowadays I express myself freely, and if some of your friends in big business could hear the comebacks I get from all sorts and conditions they might be better prepared for what will surely descend upon them politically within a few years or more.

"I understand some sort of pension is given as an excuse for not employing people over 35—30 is in some cases the deadline for women. But that does not excuse corporations for refusing employment to people who are glad to forego pension benefits in order to get work.

"IF big business is right, then the rest of the country is wrong. Our Wilsons, Hardings, Coolidges were all over the deadline. Our Army colonels, our Navy captains, our university presidents, our college deans, our noted doctors and lawyers, our prominent architects, our celebrated clergymen, all, all would be given the haughty once over if their names were presented to the august directors of personnel in our financial, commercial and industrial houses or factories!

"I never knew a woman of mature years to last one week in any office who did not do steady, accurate and in almost all cases fast work. And it is this class of steady, seasoned, trained worker that big business has set its face against and has relegated to what? Dependence on relations, charity?

"Can any executive with enough intelligence to sign a payroll maintain that a person could earn enough from 18 to 38 to keep him or her for life?

"Can no one in big business foresee that the more they consolidate, the easier, simpler and more logical it will be for the government to take over all their mergers, if the voting class from 38 to 70 finally get starved into activity?

"ONE of the arguments for restricted immigration is that the foreigner does not spend in proportion to his earnings. What does 18 to 38 do? From 18 to 28 it usually lives under the parental roof or in a hall bedroom. Much goes for joy riding and jazz parties, sports and bootlegging. Much also to wildcat investments. Youth does not know what to do with money—bless its youthful heart!

"The same money paid to 38 to 65 would go for house furnishings, house building, autos and most important, education of dependents—in a word, any and everything that goes to make up a nation's prosperity. Gambling, dance halls, liquor and fake oil wells do not upbuild any nation.

"SOME of us give big business its workers, but, in the name of national prosperity and content, who is going to give it any sane, common sense?"

RAIL STOCKS AGAIN LEAD ADVANCE

NEW YORK, April 26.—(AP.)—Railroad shares again held the center of the stage in today's stock market, practically all active issues mounting to new high levels for the year on gains ranging from fractions to 8 points. Renewed weakness cropped out in the tobacco shares on the announcement that the Lorillard company had met the recent cigaret price-cuts of other manufacturers, but the other industrials pointed upward after an early period of irregularity. Trading was again in large volume, total sales crossing 2,300,000 shares before the end of the third hour.

The brisk demand for the rails took place in the face of another poor freight car loading report, receiving its chief impetus from the rather general belief that an agreement on eastern railroad consolidations finally had been reached by leading executives. St. Louis and Southwestern and Lehigh Valley, each up 8 points, led the advance. Jersey Central and Union Pacific climbed about 6 points each and Wabash, Chicago Northwestern and a score of others moved up 2 to nearly 5 points.

Several of the large commission houses suggested a switching of speculative interest from the industrials to the rails on the ground that the latter were out of line with the general and probably would be the most seriously affected by an increase in the re-discount rate of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, directors of which meet after the close of the market. Call money apeared to be in plentiful supply at the renewal figure of 5 per cent but time money was slightly firmer.

Lorillard broke 3 points to a new 1928 low at 31⅞ on the announcement of the cigaret price cut and Liggett & Myers sank 3½ points to a new low at 98¼. American Tobacco issues received better support.

Oils were again under accumulation on reports of further trade improvement. Atlantic Refining and Richfield Oil of California reaching new high ground. Case Threshing Machine soared 8½ points, advance Rumley preferred 5½ and Curtiss Aeroplane, Continental Insurance and International Agricultural Chemical preferred moved up 6 points or more. General Railway Signal and Gold Dust rallied briskly at the expense of an over-crowded short interest.

Solving the Problems that Confront Your Estate

What About Your Insurance?

MEN and women work hard to pay for life insurance to protect those who are dear to them. Then they expect the beneficiaries, in assuming the sudden responsibility of management, to use the same business wisdom they have shown in accumulating the estate.

The sensible plan is to create an Insurance Trust and make certain that the distribution is wisely directed by a strong institution of long and tried experience like The Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh.

General Motors.

The bulls maintain that the General Motors report for the first quarter showing earnings of $3.46 a share was bullish. The bears maintain that Motors is no bargain on these earnings. They pointed out that about a year ago the old Motors stock was selling around 195 and earned in the first quarter $5.80 a share. But more important, they said, is the fact that Ford was slipping a year ago whereas at present he seems to have overcome his difficulties and is getting back into his former stride.

Important Oil Discovery.

Considerable importance is attached to the initial results obtained in the new Potrero field at East Inglewood, Cal., by the Associated Oil Company as a development of major importance to the oil industry. Associated has just brought in the field's first well with a flow of 1,100 barrels a day of 48 degree specific gravity light oil, the highest grade ever produced in California, and is only 14 degrees heavier than commercial grade gasoline and could almost be used as internal combustion motor fuel as it comes from the earth.

Strike, Flood Hurt MOP.

The annual report of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company for 1927 shows net income of $4,401,196, a decrease of almost 50 per cent from net of 1926, $8,631,667. The disappointing showing was ascribed by L. W. Baldwin, president, to the strike of the coal miners, which extended over a period of six months; the disastrous Mississippi flood, which paralyzed industry in the south, and the effect of these upon general business in the territory served by the railroad. Net railway operating income was $16,899,498, compared with $20,333,785 in 1926. The competition of the motor vehicle was cited in the report regarding the decrease in passenger income.

Washington Optimistic.

On the whole, industrial conditions throughout the country are in a healthy condition, Treasury officials announced today at Washington. While some lines have not shown an appreciable gain, manufacturers have made some progress. It was said, however, there appears to be no cause for alarm and while officials did not wish to appear too optimistic, they anticipate a general increase in all lines of business and a big decrease in unemployment. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was said to have shared this view. These prognostications also have support of President Coolidge, who previously has been optimistic in his business forecast, and of Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who likewise anticipates an upward trend in all industries within the next few months.

Nothing to Worry About.

Hemphill, Noyes & Co. says: "We do not believe that the market is in a mood to pay any great amount of attention to the money situation and even if the discount rate were raised, we would not look for any great market change. A reaction when it comes will doubtless prove to be not a major bear movement but a corrective process, as fall business and a higher market later in the year seems almost certain."

Schwab Notes Improvement.

Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Company, sailing for Europe last night, said: "The steel industry has shown considerable improvement during the past two months and I look for continued activity in our lines during the rest of the year." Mr. Schwab declined to discuss dividend possibilities. He said the company was in a strong financial position, but resumption of dividends was purely a matter for directors to decide.

Phoenix Oil Registered.

The Phoenix Oil Company (formerly Omar Oil and Gas Company) issued the following statement today: "The Pennsylvania Securities Commission has registered the stock of the Phoenix Oil Company and have approved the plan of refinancing. Interim certificates will be mailed immediately and permanent certificates will be mailed as soon as possible. Interim certificates are negotiable and can be traded in the Pittsburgh curb market. The officers of the company are very much gratified by the number of stockholders who have changed from their original idea of exchanging only to the subscription plan, and also the large amount of subscribers who have paid their cash subscriptions in full rather than accept the privilege extended of partial payments. The same three options as were originally offered to all Omar stockholders are still available via Exchange without additional cash subscription, or subscription on the 80 or 100 per cent basis. With the cash working capital now available the company's valuable properties will be developed and the board of directors and the management of the company are enthusiastic over the prospects for future success."

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, April 26.—Wheat, rye, corn and oats today all surpassed the season's previous top prices which were yet hardly 24 hours old. Rapidly advancing quotations at Liverpool, together with critical wheat crop conditions, especially in Western Nebraska and Northwestern Kansas, were leading bullish factors. Opening ⅝c to 2⅛c higher, Chicago wheat later fluctuated near to the initial range. Corn started ⅝c to 1⅛@1¼c up, and subsequently reacted somewhat with oats following. Provisions, like grain, tended upward.

At noon wheat was 1¼ to 2c net higher and corn ¼ to ⅜@½ up.

Houses with seaboard connections led the purchasing today in the wheat market here, and reports were current that all wheat offered overnight to Europe had been taken for prompt shipment. Meanwhile, dispatches were at hand from a Chicago crop expert touring the wheat belt that unless rains come soon in Western Nebraska and Northwestern Kansas the wheat throughout that region will be a complete loss. In this connection, the fact was noted that from Colby, Kan., to Norton, Kan., no moisture has fallen since last summer.

Summaries of crop conditions from another authority said that between the 100th meridian and the Mississippi the outlook for wheat is fair to very good, with not much chance for improvement, but that heavy deterioration may occur through insect damage or unfavorable weather. No chance exists, he says, for improvement east of the Mississippi, and acreage abandonment there will be the heaviest ever known.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, April 26.—(AP)—The bond market was less active today and price trends were confused. Traders appeared to be marking time. Developments in the credit field and the market showed continued apprehension over the possibility of a raise in the Federal Reserve Bank rediscount rate at New York.

Some rails, however, were in demand, particularly St. Paul 5s, Katy 5s and New Haven 4½s. Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh convertible 4½s were strong in sympathy with the stock. Firmness of Pea Motors and Fort Dodge 4s and the Minneapolis and St. Louis issues reflected further activities of "bargain hunters."

Brisk demand developed for Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies 5s, which duplicated its year's high with a 1 point gain. Anaconda and Andes Copper 7s gained more than a point each following the advance of the stock on the "big board." Profit-taking in the New York traction division was the only feature in the public utility group.

The foreign group was steady with a firm undertone. Individual transactions were limited.

United States government bonds were steady in early trading.

NEW YORK, April 26.—(AP)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows (000 omitted in sales column) (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollar):

PRODUCE MARKET

Dealings for all lines of fruit and vegetables were fair today at the local wholesale produce district. The market on iceberg lettuce and oranges was somewhat firmer, while cucumbers showed a weakness. All other fruit and vegetables were sold at about unchanged quotations.

Poultry supplies were nominal and the market was easy. The demand was dull and the quotations were unchanged.

Car lot supplies were liberal, a total of 846 cars being on track. Arrivals included 5 cars of apples, 1 cabbage, 1 carrots, 3 cauliflower, 2 celery, 5 cucumbers, 1 grapefruit, 1 lemons, 7 lettuce, 16 onions, 6 oranges, 1 peppers, 3 spinach, 26 potatoes, 5 sweet potatoes and 7 tomatoes.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 26.—There was no change in the local raw sugar market early today, but offerings were more liberal, with demand light. The only sale reported was 25,000 bags of Cuban to an operator at 4.40c for prompt shipment.

The raw sugar futures market opened unchanged to 2 points lower under renewed May liquidation, promoted by the issuance of 207 notices. The cables were considered favorable, but the failure of demand to broaden in the spot market, and increased offerings of duty free sugars, tended to check aggressive buying. After further losses under hedge selling and tired long liquidation, prices at midday showed net declines of 1 to 3 points.

No new developments occurred in the refined sugar market, with prices listed at 5.95 to 6.00c for fine granulated. Second hand sugars were available at from 5 to 10 points below these quotations.

MAN KILLED WHEN FLYWHEEL BREAKS

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 26.—Charles Conley, 45, employe of the Liberty Paper Board Company, was killed instantly yesterday when a flywheel in the engine room of the plant broke. Conley was at work near the wheel and was crushed to death when parts of the machine landed on him.

LOCAL STOCKS UNCHANGED

Stocks were quiet in the early session on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange this morning with prices showing no noticeable changes from the quotations posted on the close last night.

The flurry which appeared to be shaping up in Carnegie Metals yesterday blew itself out with the stock about a point above the level at which it was selling when the activity started yesterday morning. However, mining and metal shares on the "big board" were strong this morning with Anaconda Copper leading the list.

Lone Star Gas failed to develop any activity and did not even appear in the sales list in the first hour. Arkansas was dull and unchanged. Standard Sanitary held steady around the previous close. Other building accessory stocks were unchanged. Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt had a firm tone around 54½, and Union Steel Castings held at the best price on the current movement.

William Zoller Company common, which has been under accumulation for weeks, jumped 5 points to a new high record of $50 a share. Incidentally, the shares of Adolph Goebel, Inc., the big New York packer handling similar products, have been rising steadily and are at present in new high ground.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 26.—The cotton market opened firm today at an advance of 21 to 32 points on prospects for more rain in the belt and relatively firm Liverpool cables.

The renewal of unsettled weather so soon after the very heavy rains reported in many sections of the South over the week-end, evidently stimulated bullish sentiment. There was heavy general buying on the advance into new high ground for the movement.

May contracts sold up to 21.12c and October to 20.60c, or 21 to 32 points above yesterday's closing quotations. Heavy realizing developed at these prices, but demand seemed to be broadening and offerings were absorbed on reactions of 5 or 6 points during the first hour.

Private cables said there had been buying and fair trade calling in Liverpool owing to reports of adverse weather in the South and reported improved cloth sales for India. Houses with foreign trade connections were among the buyers here at the opening.

The realizing sales attracted by the opening advance were absorbed by an increasing trade and commission house demand, with the market more active than it has been for three or four months. Prices sold up to 21.20c for May and 20.70c for October, making net advances of 40 to 43 points, but at these figures buying tapered off, and there were setbacks of 10 to 12 points from the best under realizing. The market at midday was less active but steady at net advance of about 33 to 38 points.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, April 26.—(AP.)—Bullish buying continued to lift prices on the curb market today with gains ranging from 5 to 28 points. Some profit-taking set in around noon, but recessions were limited.

Safeway Stores led the market, soaring 28 points to a new peak at 550. Shattuck Denn again reached new high territory at 20⅝. Railroad shares reflected the strength of rails on the "big board," Alabama Great Southern preferred jumping 11 points to a new top at 185 and the common moving to its year's high at 179. Pittsburgh and Lake Erie rose about 11 points to a new high at 169⅞.

Bancitaly advanced to within 2 points of the year's high and Columbia Graphaphone, Libby Owens, New Jersey Zinc, Silica Gel and others recorded substantial gains.

A feature was the strength of the artificial silk shares, British Celanese climbing to a new top at 28½ on heavy buying. Tubize and Celanese gained about 4 points each.

Profit-taking cut down the gains of the utilities after Cities Service, Massachusetts Gas and a few others had reached new peaks.

Oils generally were strong. Chesebrough, Darby, Gulf, Humble and Richfield warrants establishing new high prices. Some pipe lines also advanced.

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP.)—Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (000 omitted in sales column in bond list):

GROUND BROKEN FOR NEW TERMINAL

MERCHANTS IN CEREMONY

Ground has been broken for the new freight and produce terminal to be erected here by the Pennsylvania Railroad. Produce merchants particularly are vitally interested in the project, which means the realization of years of planning in Pittsburgh's antiquated produce district. The photograph shows C. I. Leiper, general manager, Pennsylvania Railroad (with pick), and Charles A. Muehlbronner, chairman, merchants' commission (with shovel).

SEEK OWNER OF BIG "WILDCAT" DISTILLERY

Efforts were being made today by prohibition agents to locate the owner of a "wildcat" distillery uncovered last night in a raid at 2413 Breckenridge street. The seizure, valued at $2,000, comprised a 150-gallon still, 51 barrels of mash and 60 gallons of moonshine. There was no one home when the agents made their visit.

Adjoining houses in Linton street were raided by the prohibition agents. They were dwellings at 1868 and 1870 Linton street. At 1868 Linton street a 50-gallon still, five barrels and 10 gallons of moonshine were reported seized. Mrs. Freda Cooper was arrested. At the other house the agents arrested Samuel Gross and found, they say, a 40-gallon still and a gallon of whisky.

Other places raided, seizures made, and those arrested, according to the agents, follow:

Dwelling at 120 Penn avenue, Braddock, 10 gallons of whisky and 126 pints of whisky. Lloyd Weisman.

Dwelling at 316 Talbot avenue, Braddock, gallon moonshine. Mrs. J. Sabosky.

Dwelling rear of 149 West Carson street, five gallons moonshine, 11 pints home brew. Emanuel Mercuri.

Dwelling in Corwin road, Mt. Oliver, 15-gallon still, five gallons moonshine. Nick Partick.

Dwelling in Manown, 10 barrels mash. Dominick Marino.

TEDDY JOYCE BOOKED FOR REVUES IN PENN

Teddy Joyce is coming from the Capitol Theater, New York, to conduct and take part in the stage revues which the Penn presents from week to week. He will make his debut on the Penn stage Monday, when the revue, "Knick-Knacks," opens. Joyce is said to be a talented actor and musician.

FULL RETURN IN BOND ISSUES PLEDGED

The taxpayers are promised a full return for the money which is expended in the people's bond issue, approved at the polls Tuesday, in a statement issued today by James F. Malone, president of City Council. Mr. Malone, in behalf of City Council, expressed appreciation for the support given the issue. The statement:

"We are gratified to see the wonderful vote recorded in favor of the entire bond issue schedule despite the fact that the total number of persons participating in the election was small. Approximately three to one is the verdict of the people.

"For myself and in behalf of my colleagues I desire to express appreciation for the decisive victory over mud streets, unimproved playgrounds and parks, and inadequate sewers.

"Until the polls closed Tuesday, the proposition was a proposed people's bond issue. It is now a people's bond issue, sponsored by the people, authorized by their votes and will be carried out in the interests of all our people in every community within the city.

"No time will be lost in the preparation of contract plans for the hundreds of improvements contemplated. Reaffirming a previous statement, I desire to assure the electorate, every soul within our boundary, that Council will not alone pass legislation, but we shall see to it that every item represents honest, fair service—a service which the people not only expect, but that which they should and will get."

The Death Roll

H. L. H. Blair.

Howard L. H. Blair, 70, retired assistant general manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Central region, died yesterday at his home in Sewickley. In more than half a century in the railroad service, he spent 47 years in the office of the general manager in Pittsburgh and was closely associated with L. F. Loree, James McCrea and other high officials of the company who depended upon his practical knowledge of the office and for years he was referred to in the Pennsylvania organization as the "guardian of the treasury."

Mr. Blair was born in Yellow Creek, O., and after a course in the University of Pittsburgh, entered the railroad service, going up in rapid promotion to the office of chief clerk of the general superintendent of transportation in 1887 and three years later went into the office of the general manager, where he was intrusted with the supervision of expenditures. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Annie Cunningham Blair; a son, Carter Curtis Blair, and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Kramer and Mrs. Jane B. Webb.

Funeral of David Yost

Funeral services will be held tonight for David Yost, 67, president of the Yost & Yost Mortgage Company, who died Tuesday in the Passavant Hospital. The services will be held at the family home at 822 Washington road, Mt. Lebanon. Burial will take place Friday morning in the South Side Cemetery. Mr. Yost also was vice president of the United States Glass Company, and a director of the Western Savings and Deposit Bank. He was a lifelong resident of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Anna C. Fitzgerald.

Mrs. Anna C. Fitzgerald, 67, formerly of the North Side, died yesterday at the home of her son, Roy J. Fitzgerald, 1525 Foliage street, Wilkinsburg. She was the widow of Charles E. Fitzgerald and leaves three sons, Charles E., Jr., Wilbur T. Fitzgerald and Roy J. Fitzgerald. She was a member of St. James Catholic Church, Wilkinsburg.

Charles F. Veil, Jr.

Charles F. Veil, Jr., 37, of Highland Station, World War veteran, died Tuesday from a sudden attack of acute indigestion. He was a trustee in the Community United Presbyterian Church, Highland Station and a member of Park Lodge No. 676, F. & A. M. and of Islam Grotto. He leaves his wife, two children, and his father.

Miss Ida S. Kummer

Miss Ida S. Kummer, 60, died yesterday at her home in McCandless township. She was a lifelong resident of Allegheny County and was a member of the Lutheran Church. She leaves her father, Frank M. Kummer; a sister and five brothers.

Mrs. Emma E. F. Schafer

Mrs. Emma Elizabeth Freebing Schafer, 66, wife of John Schafer, died yesterday at her home in Collier township. She was born in Pittsburgh and had lived in Allegheny County all her life. She was a member of the United Presbyterian Church, Gayly. She leaves her husband, two sons, two daughters and five grandchildren.

YOU NEED
TITLE INSURANCE

Any land, the title of which has changed several times, is subject to defects which may seriously affect the final purchaser.

Why take title risks? For a nominal fee you can protect your title by POTTER TITLE INSURANCE.

Title insurance is a binding agreement under which the POTTER TITLE AND MORTGAGE GUARANTEE CO. agrees to defend, according to the terms of its policy at its own expense, law suits directed against the title insured, and, if attacked successfully, agrees to pay the parties guaranteed the amount of loss up to the full amount for which insured.

When you deal in real estate, include POTTER TITLE INSURANCE in the transaction.

BUGS BAER Says

THE New York Mayor's Reception Committee is ready to swat three more fliers.

The confetti foundries are turning out high explosive enthusiasm, the tugboat whistles are tuning up, grandstands are constructed in inaccessible detours, newsreel men are having their grinding arms massaged and all preparations are set to show the boys what hospitality really means to the unwary.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Between fliers of the Cunard Lake, thumpers of the English Channel and world champions, the Mayor's Reception Committee has ignored no one except the Mayor.

The qualifications necessary to become a member of this committee are complicated and exact. You must wear a swallowtail coat with a sang froid or its equivalent in cash. When the tails flap against your hocks you must never mistake them from your shirt tail flapping in the breeze.

You must be able to tip your hat in response to cheers for other men and must have the culture essential to refrain from looking astonished in a flashlight picture.

Never feel out of place when you are standing in front of the city's guest of honor because you live here while he is only a visitor.

The most important detail is a silk hat with a mileage record of twenty thousand miles. It doesn't have to fit, for all you have to do is to wave it.

Assist Our Boy Scouts By Attending Exhibition

Under the auspices of Allegheny County Council, Boy Scouts of America, a Boy Scout Exposition opens tonight in Duquesne Garden.

You know the importance of the Boy Scout organization in building character. You know the Scout pledge of doing a good deed daily. He does it without expectation of payment, but many will be disposed to reward him to the extent of at least buying a ticket for his show.

It will be worth the money, too. There will be 72 exhibits in booths and demonstrations of what the boys have learned about life-saving, first aid, camp cooking and the many useful things in which members of the organization receive training.

Encourage these boys by your attendance. Show them you appreciate their fidelity to the organization that is engaged in preparing them to be manly, useful men.

City Bond Issue Wins; Ready for County Now

Despite the general apathy attending the primary election, the city improvement bond issue was not thereby endangered.

The issue went through with a convincing approval of voters.

As far as Pittsburgh is concerned, that is a matter of more consequence than the success of this or that political leader at the polls. We have to have them, of course, but we have learned that help we sometimes expect to obtain from them is not forthcoming.

It is a better way to help ourselves, and we have done this in voting for the city bonds.

We now are ready for the proposed county bond issue and hope that it may be expedited as much as possible.

Giving Schools Pictures Is Praiseworthy Action

Five more pictures by Pittsburgh artists have been presented to Pittsburgh public schools by "One Hundred Friends of Pittsburgh Art," which organization has given a total of 57 paintings to the schools in 13 years, the gifts representing the works of 42 artists of this city.

This is an encouragement not only for our artists, but for those who know the value of the esthetic in providing environment for the cultural advancement of our children. Beauty and art are such important factors in our lives that the matter of suggesting and developing good taste through having good pictures in the schools is eminently commendable.

Therefore, thanks to "One Hundred Friends of Pittsburgh Art."

Fighting Bugs With Bugs

Better Than Fighting Men with Men

Since the beginning of time and of war, one kind and color of men have used their energy and ferocity to kill off other kinds and colors.

Alexander with his Greeks killed Persians. The Romans with their invading army killed millions of all kinds and colors in all countries.

The blond Nordics, so called, drove far into the North the dark, squat tribes that we now call Eskimos.

The Chinese alternately repelled and were invaded by savage Tartars and other barbarians.

The lighter Egyptians fought against the black Ethiopians, gradually pressing them south toward the equator.

All over the world since the very beginning it has been man against man, tribe against tribe, nation against nation, intelligence always conquering in the end and gradually rising the level of civilization.

What men have done to each other, they are now causing creatures of the insect tribes to do to each other.

To get rid of harmful insect pests, they employ a harmless kind to fight dangerous kinds.

For years the innocent lady bug has been used in California and elsewhere to fight the deadly "scale" that has destroyed millions of fruit trees.

Descending lower in the scale of life, science has recently employed the germ of malaria, implanted in the blood by mosquitoes, to combat paresis, a disease that destroys the brain.

And now an intelligent Frenchman announces that he has found and is cultivating a mosquito that will not bite human beings, but does bite other animals, and, most important, drives out the man-biting mosquitoes that cause yellow fever and other diseases.

A French naturalist, I. Legendre, informs the solemn French Academy of Sciences that he has discovered in Culex pipiens a valuable mosquito, "friend of man, that dislikes human blood, bites other animals, and drives out the objectionable mosquitoes that DO bite men."

The new beneficent mosquito, Culex pipiens, found in Brittany, raised by Mons. Legendre, will bite all animals, from hens to horses, but will NOT bite humans.

It is not as full-fledged mosquitoes that these different kinds of Culex do their fighting. They do that killing each other off in the larva state, and the kind that does not like human blood wins out.

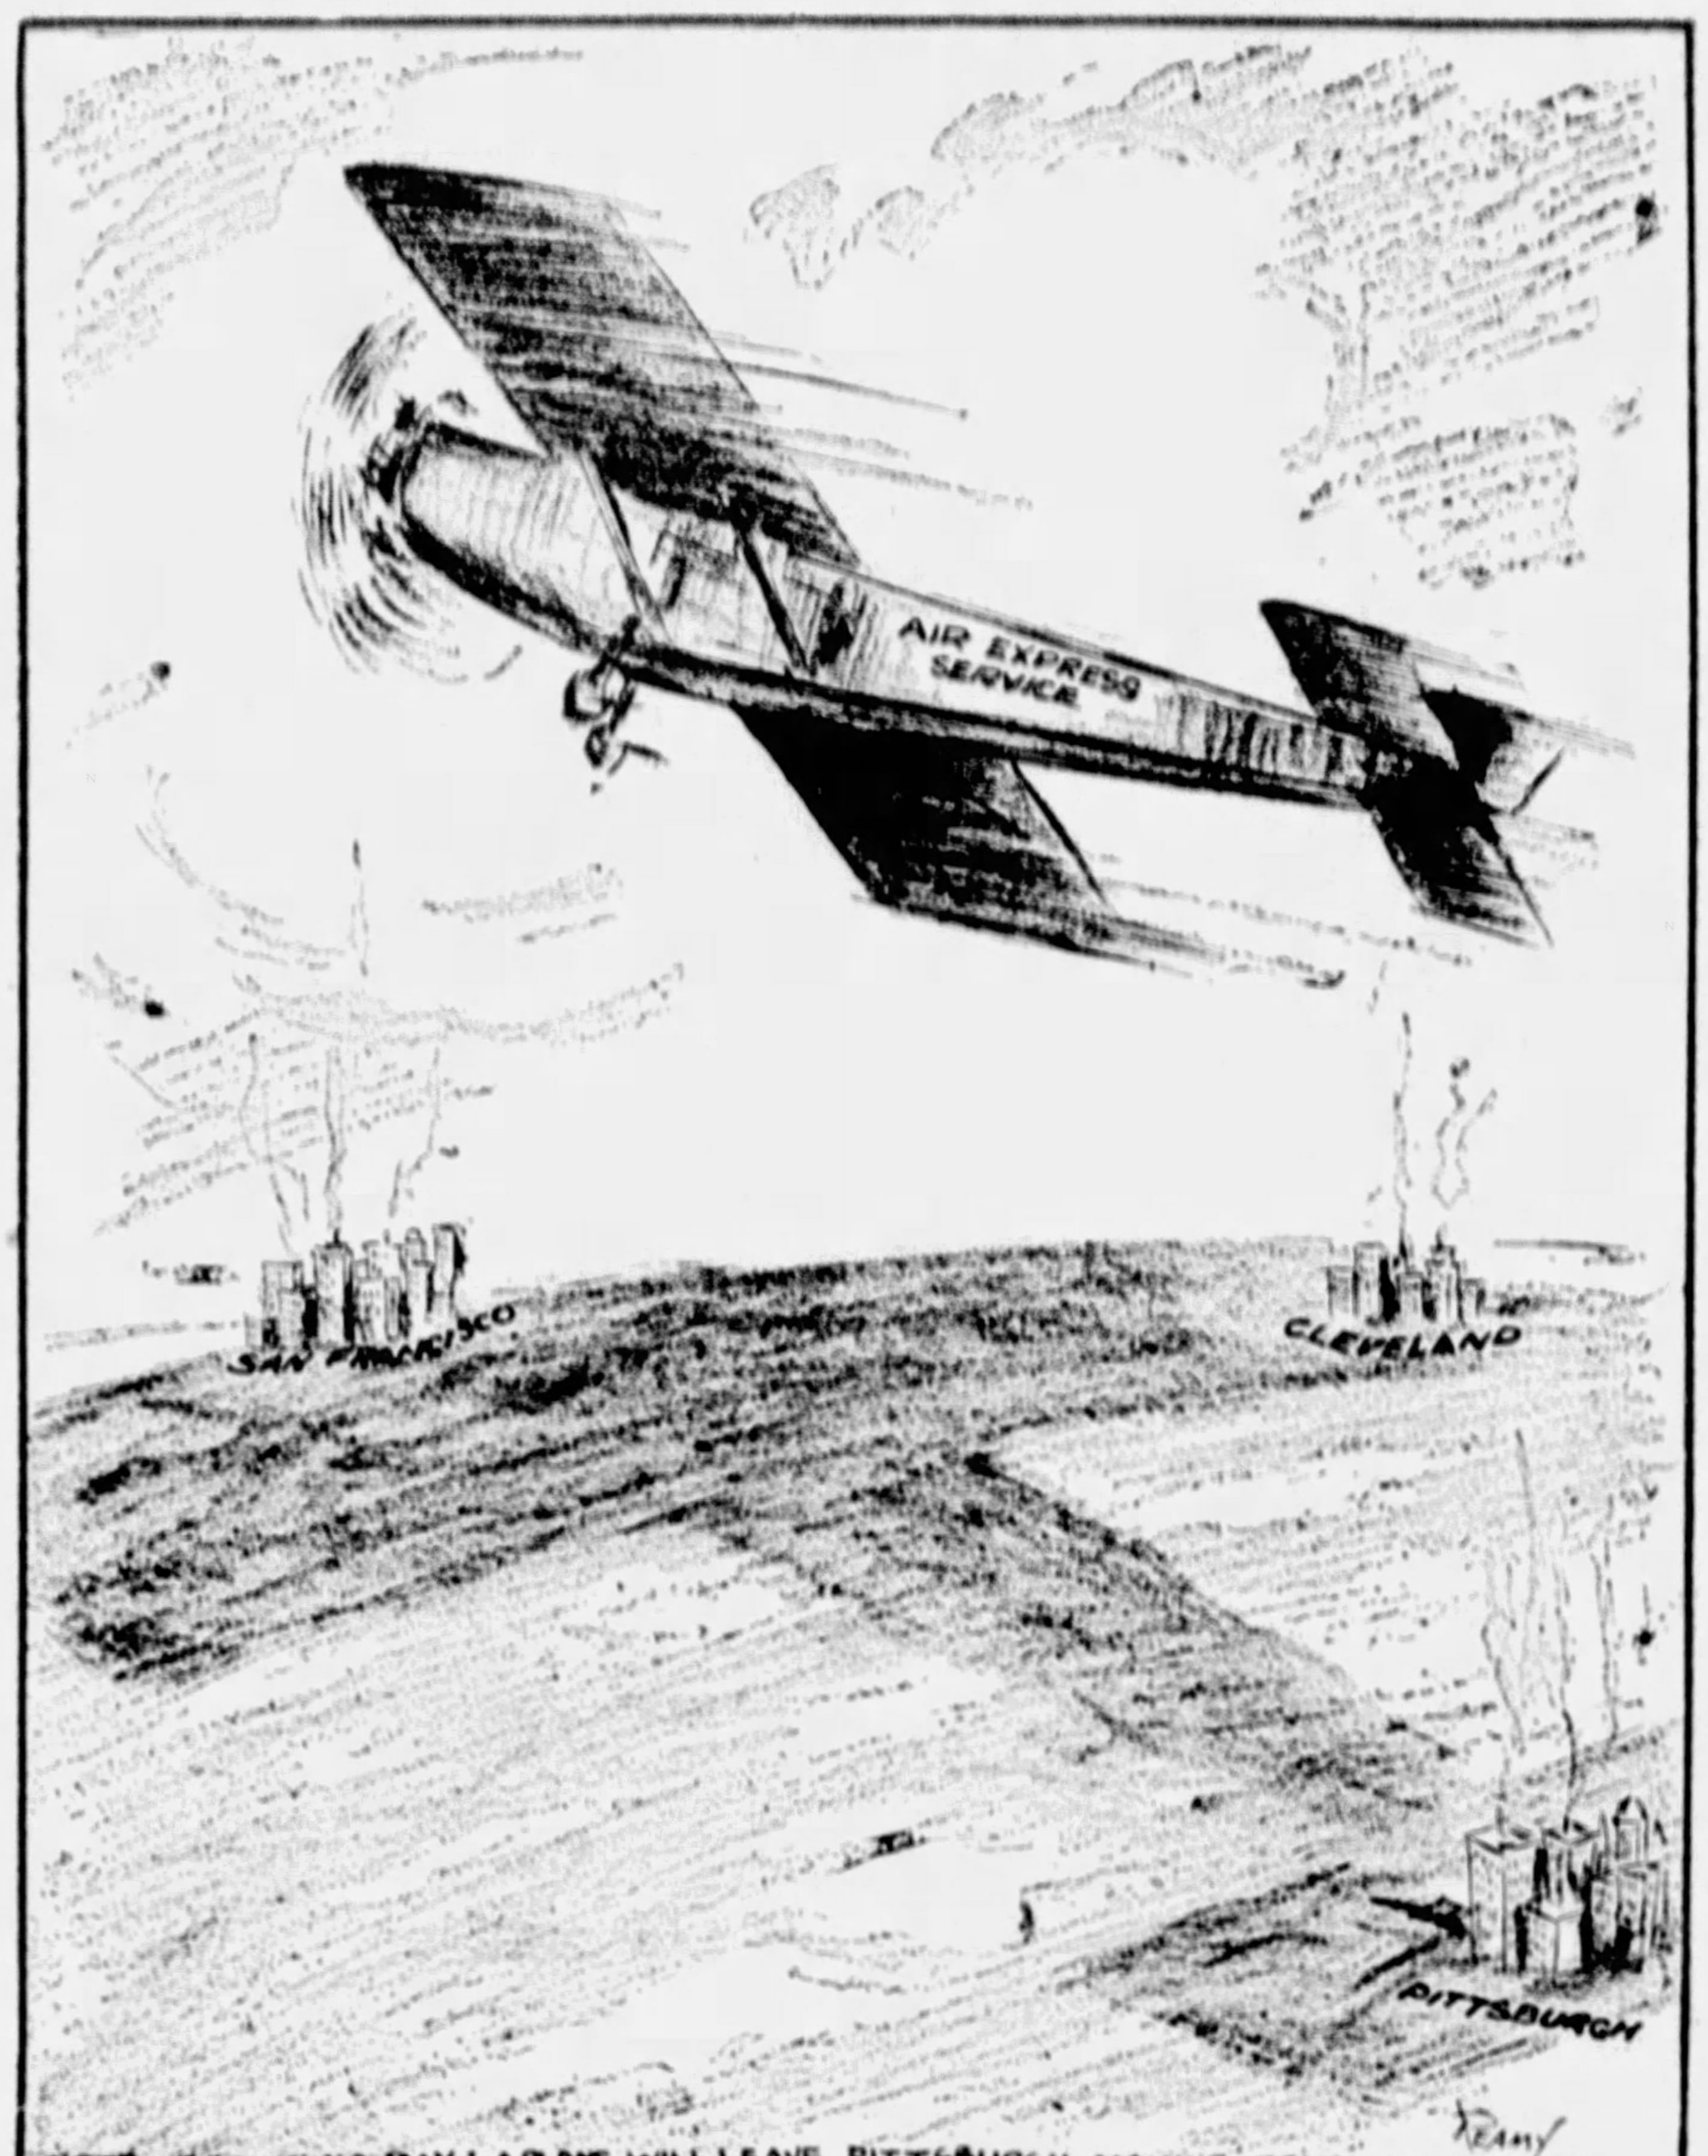
This will interest many states in this country.

Let us hope that Culex pipiens, after we take the trouble to import him, will not change his mind and decide that after all he might as well bite human beings, since all the other mosquitoes do it.

You remember that insect-eating parrot in Australia. It landed on the backs of the sheep to eat the insects that gathered, accidentally bit into the sheep, found that mutton was better than insects, and destroyed thousands of sheep, eating the fat over the kidneys.

You never can tell what nature and her representatives will do.

A NEW KIND OF "LIMITED"



NOTE—BEGINNING MAY 1 A PLANE WILL LEAVE PITTSBURGH, MAKING TRANSCONTINENTAL CONNECTIONS AT CLEVELAND

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Alice in an Elevator

"Why is it that when a person has a heavy weight in his hand riding up in an elevator, the weight lightens for a moment when the elevator stops?—E. L. K."

YOU have hit upon one of the everyday things which people see without perceiving, but on which Einstein meditated so effectively that he placed his name beside Newton's. Einstein saw a man fall from a third-story window and hit on a soft spot which saved his life. Einstein was already hatching his idea that gravitation is not a force but simply an expression of inertia, and he asked the man to describe his sensations while falling. The man replied that he had no sense of falling: on the contrary the earth seemed to be jumping up to meet him. He had no feeling of weight pulling him down.

This agreed perfectly with Einstein's "principle of equivalence," which is finely illustrated by what occurs in an elevator. When the car starts upward the passengers feel an increase of pressure on their feet, just as if several pounds had suddenly been added to their weight. If the elevator increases its speed this sensation continues, the pressure on the feet increasing as long as the upward motion is accelerated. But if the motion becomes uniform the sense of pressure ceases, and the passenger regains his normal weight. This could be proved by standing on the platform of a weighing machine placed on the floor of the car.

Now, let the car suddenly stop; immediately the passenger feels a lightening of his weight. If the car were going fast enough when the stoppage occurred he would be lifted off his feet by the inertia of motion stored up in his body. It is this inertia that causes the weight in your hand to lighten when the car stops, for everything in the car experiences the same effects.

Now, if you begin your experiments at the top of the elevator shaft instead of at the bottom you get the same effects in the reverse order. As the car starts to drop, a part of your weight disappears, and if the car falls freely your weight will entirely disappear (at least, that is what would occur if the fall was in a vacuum). You would then be "as light as a feather," and lighter, for gravitation would be exactly balanced by motion. If you jumped up off your feet you would not sink back again, but would remain suspended. If you let go of the weight in your hand, it would not fall to the floor of the car but remain floating beside you. But the lost weight would be suddenly regained on striking the ground.

In short the famous "Alice" of the "Wonderland" adventures might obtain some new sensations inside an elevator that would be almost as astonishing, in their way, as anything she found on getting through the looking glass.

You now ought to see what Einstein calls his principle of equivalence. When a body falls freely it moves at the rate of 32 and a fraction feet per second, i. e., during each second it falls it gains 32 feet of velocity. A man in a box falling at that rate does not feel the motion. But if the motion is slowed up the man begins to have weight and feels the pressure of his feet on the floor, just as if gravitation were then and there created.

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

Watch the Balance

ARE you robbing Peter to pay Paul?

You pay one debt by standing off another.

And so you go on, down the line.

Trouble is, that the debts seem to increase rather than to grow less.

Then that proves the fallacy of your method.

Suppose you try to cut expenditures slightly, along several lines, in your living or business lists.

Don't pare off so much as to make it impossible, or foolish.

But retrench, slightly, in every way.

It won't be long before you notice a better balance in your ledger.

Even a slight retrenchment brings you to a more acute sense of your needs, along certain lines.

With a keener sense of what your life or business demands, you can, perhaps, take a slightly greater percentage off some certain other expenditures.

Very likely you will get just as much satisfaction out of living, and so much satisfaction out of wise spending, that you will study a better balance relation, between the debit and credit side of your transactions.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELS

Afternath

NOW at last the dream is done,
Fancy's final threads are spun;
What seemed once worth more than all
Melts in mists ephemeral.
Gone the lure and dead the gleam
Of the dust that was a dream.

Yet, although the splendor dies
Now, before our watching eyes,
Even as it fades and wanes
Something deathless still remains,
Something beautiful and strange,
Something changeless through all change.

For, from mists of vanished years,
An emerging plan appears,
And with clearer eyes we read
Purpose back of every deed;
Ours to hold the key at last
To the secrets of the past.

Tales that are Told

A Wholesale Order

AT TIMES the Channel can be very rough, and this was one of the times. The steamer, endeavoring to make its way nearer the old white cliffs of Dover, was being tossed about like a cork, so violent were the waves, and the majority of the passengers were below deck.

One man, a little braver than the rest, leaned uncertainly against the saloon door. He showed signs of interest as a steward appeared.

"Anything I can get you, sir?" asked the steward politely.

"There is," replied the other, passing a weary hand across his brow. "I'd like a small island."

The Cat of Many Colors

"AND this," said the wife of the celebrated painter, "is my dear husband's studio. Come in, but do please be careful."

The visitor stepped gingerly over the threshold, for she was a fastidious person, and cast an appraising glance round the canvas-hung walls.

Suddenly a cat appeared in the middle of the room in that mysterious way that appertains to felines.

"What a curious-looking cat!" cried the stranger. "I don't think I've ever seen one marked like that."

"No," answered her hostess, "I don't expect you have. My dear husband is so careless. He wipes his brushes just anywhere."

The Champion

BROWN'S wife had just presented him with triplets, three bouncing boys, and his employer congratulated him on the event.

The following day he was called into the office and handed a silver cup in recognition of the triple blessing he had bestowed upon his country. Brown received the gift in rather an embarrassed manner.

"Thank you very much, sir," he said, turning to his employer. "But—er—is this cup mine now, or do I have to win it three years in succession?"

Complete

ALTHOUGH he hated the very thought of it, a certain young man turned up at the wedding of his best friend.

After the ceremony he was introduced to the bride—a girl whom he had never seen before.

"George," he whispered, some few minutes later, "what ever made you marry that? She must be twice as old as you are, and she's as ugly as a toad!"

The bridegroom chuckled softly.

"You needn't whisper, old chap," he smiled. "She's stone deaf, too!"

Love's Labor Lost

"LISTEN!" he said. "I've spent three weeks teaching a girl to ride a bicycle. Talk about patience, Job was a novice at the game. And what is my reward? I've just been to the theater, and—"

"Seen the girl with another fellow?"

"No! A thousand times worse! I saw her on the stage. She's a tricky cyclist."—English Exchange.

LISTEN, WORLD! ELSIE ROBINSON Says: Life What You Make It

LIFE is what you make it, my friend.

You establish your own terms with destiny.

People—and things—do to you what you let them do.

There are, of course, certain experiences over which you have no apparent control. A loved one dies—you may lose your job—the nation may go to war—stocks may rise or fall—an accident may cripple you—such crises may occur in your life as they occur in nearly every life. But it isn't the thing that happens to you that makes or mars your career—it's the way you take it. And you, yourself, determine how you shall take these tests.

If life isn't going well with you, don't look for the answer in some other human being, or in some outward circumstances—look for the answer in yourself. You'll find it there, if you're brave enough to face the truth, and usually it's surprisingly simple.

ARE YOU UNPOPULAR? Look within yourself—what are you offering other people? What have you to offer? Have you made yourself strong, interesting, colorful, witty, sympathetic, resourceful, magnetic? Or do you expect to be loved simply because you want to be loved? Are you merely an Animated Appetite drifting vaguely about in search of admiration and affection?

ARE YOU UNLUCKY? Do you fail while other succeed? Do other people "get all the chances"? Look within yourself. You've had chances, too—what did you do with them? Did you clutch them eagerly and set yourself to work, determined to make the most of them? Did you discipline yourself and put yourself in harness? Did you sacrifice comfort and control impulse? Or did you flare up with enthusiasm and then fizzle out? Did you surrender to laziness or bad temper or a "fit of blues"? And then, when the chance had passed, did you console yourself with tears of self-pity and envious sneers of "luckier people"?

IS LOVE FAILING YOU? Look within yourself—what is your attitude toward love? Are you expecting love to solve your problems for you? Are you expecting love to give you peace and strength, wisdom and happiness? Then you're out of luck. Love was never intended to do those things for us. Your husband or your wife or your friend isn't responsible for your personal development. You, yourself, are responsible. It's up to you to accumulate your own peace and wisdom and backbone.

Somewhere, within yourself, lies the reason for your failure or success, your happiness or sadness. Some cherished weakness—some stubborness or spitefulness or maladjustment—or vanity or laziness or cowardice—there's the reason for your "bad luck." Search your heart.

New York Day by Day

by O.O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 26.—Women are not trying to be beautiful any more. The thing they attempt is to look unusual. The complimentary term "pretty" has no attraction. "Chic" is the descriptive word every lady hopes to achieve.

This is often accomplished with a hat, or a new design of decorative jewelry, or a pair of shoes, or even some outlandish breed of dog. Most millinery, frocks and wraps run to utmost simplicity these days. Fashionably gowned women dress alike.

Yet one may become distinguished or smart because of an unusual handbag. The more demurely simple a lady is dressed, the greater is the opportunity to display some decorative article that makes her stand out from the herd and become a distinct attraction.

This morning I saw a lady step from a ponderous limousine in front of a Fifth avenue shop. Her ensemble was severely plain, and the coloring of one tone. In her coat lapel was a small boutonniere of crystal fuschias, and every eye seemed to turn and follow her.

No person who rubber-necked would think of denying she was smart. In the theater it is often noticeable between acts that the gaze of the audience is on some lady who has somehow become set apart for no other reason than an usual pair of earrings, or perhaps a new-fangled bob.

People seem no longer to admire clothes, but the accessories. Masculine touches, such as mannish suits, low-heeled shoes, swagger sticks and such, have completely lost their vogue. The feminine note has never been more pronounced than it is this season. Women begin to look like women again.

The spectacle of a more than middle-aged woman dallying amorously with a shiny-haired Argentine of 29 is not edifying, but has become so commonplace in New York it is accepted as an integral part of the life of Broadway. Such couples are seen in every cafe, and the women no longer make a pretense of slipping money for the check under the table to their escorts. They pay it themselves, with no effort at secrecy, on the theory, no doubt, everyone knows the truth anyway.

* * *

One of the prolific playwrights finished a play in five days. He boasted of his achievement at the Lambs.

"What detained you?" inquired William Collier.

As a matter of fact I am not sure it was William Collier. But the line was pulled at the Lambs, and I follow the inflexible rule of columnists that a joke from the Lambs must be pinned on Collier or Wilton Lackeye. If at the Players—make it Oliver Herford.

* * *

Indeed it must be a trial for Messers. Collier, Lackeye and Herford to live up to their reputations for persiflage. Strangers meet them with unholy gleams in their eyes of those who expect in a second or so to be doubled up with laughter.

* * *

Gorge Ade, if suddenly thrown among strangers, feigns a violent toothache, on the theory a humorist is not expected to be amusing with a jumping molar.

* * *

Deserted Fifth avenue, mottled with moonlight, becomes a place of youth's romantic longings—a sort of Lover's Lane. Around midnight there are always young couples strolling hand in hand, stopping now and then in shaddowy doorways to embrace. The gray uniformed private policemen seem to understand the stirring of sentiment, and look the other way. The big parks have become unromantic, due to footpads and hoodlums who are often prowling about.

Forest Conservation

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Thrift means intelligent spending as well as intelligent saving.

And forest conservation depends quite as much upon the intelligent use of timber products as upon the saving of the forests.

This is a point that has often been overlooked by tree sentimentalists.

Axel H. Oxholm, director of the National Committee on Wood Utilization at Washington, has issued a very timely pamphlet bringing out this point.

National interests will benefit far more by vigorous encouragement of timber growing than by hoarding the timber we now have. The reason for this is simple. Growing wood is after all an economical business, that is, if it can be made to pay it will be done and if it can't be made to pay all our shouting will not accomplish much.

It can only be made to pay when there is a constant and profitable use made of timber products and at the same time careful attention paid to reforesting.

Forest fires should be strictly guarded against, much more strictly than they are, and taxes on growing timber lands should be so regulated as to make the growing of timber lucrative.

The sentimental interest in trees, the love of trees as a part of the landscape and their necessity for the prevention of floods should go hand in hand with the commercial use of tree products, with their being cared for in such a way as not only to make timber profitable, but to provide for the new crop.

It is to be hoped that efforts will be successful to place the timber business of the United States upon a solid economic and political foundation, so that our forests may be preserved and may increase.

Mr. Oxholm says: "The constructive solution of the whole problem lies in timber use and timber culture, each backing and sustaining the other.

"Like any crop, timber becomes a loss if not utilized when mature, and waste should be avoided. Orderly and systematic working of timber lands should be encouraged."

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD.

"A WELL-DRESSED infant was left on doorstep of 'The Cradle,' foundling home established by Mrs. Charles G. Dawes."—News Item.

I've known many girls who gave away their babies or left them on doorsteps. Not one was heartless. Most of them were short on mental equipment, and didn't know what to do in order to give the infants a chance in the world. Most of them would have preferred to keep the babies. Many feared their mothers and fathers. If these poor things could have thought of another, better way to give their babies a better chance in life they would have taken it—gladly.

Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, wife of the Vice President, founded a home for such babies in Evanston, Ill., where no questions are asked of the girl mothers. Many organizations criticized the institution called "The Cradle" because it did not demand to know all the secrets of these mothers, their histories, the names of the babies' fathers and so on. But the women, some of the finest in the country, stood their ground. That's one place where girls can go and present their little ones, ask that they be given into good homes, and not be asked to bare their aching hearts.

Mrs. Dawes never gives interviews. She says no one is interested in her, that her husband is the prominent one in the family. But she has taken children, for whom she hasn't yet found homes, to her beautiful Lake Shore mansion in Evanston, and cared for them as if they were her own until they could be placed. You hear more of the General, but there is no greater heart in the country than hers.

The special force of dry agents of the United States will be personally supervised by Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, at the national convention at Kansas City.

Anyone who is entertaining any unconstitutional ideas may read that and weep!

Delivery boys are fastening weights to the dressmakers' packages now so they won't lose them. The clothes weigh nothing and so many packages just seemed to blow out of the delivery wagons. As one current funny paper puts it:

"Women seem to dress on the theory that nothing succeeds like nothing."

Mr. Kresge says his wife promised to present him with a child for the small price of $10,000,000. That's hardly the right brand of retribution for poor Mr. Kresge, who has tried so hard to make everything 5 and 10 cents for all the rest of the world.

Words of Wise Men

Whatever enlarges hope will also exalt courage.—Johnson.

A wise man should have money in his head, but not in his heart.—Swift.

To be slow in granting a favor is to show unwillingness; even to be slow in desiring to grant it is evidence of unwillingness.—Seneca.

A gentleman has ease without familiarity, is respectful without meanness; genteel without affectation, insinuating without seeming art.—Chesterfield.
